FIRE CAUSES $20,000 LOSS AT SHAWNIGAN

HUNDREDS DROWNED WHEN POWER DAM IN ITALY COLLAPSES

Number of Dead in Disaster Near Turin May Reach One Thousand—Scores Injured and Large Area Is Laid Waste by Flood—Break Is Preceded by Terrific Storm

TURIN, Italy, Aug. 13 (AP).—Estimates that more than 600 persons—possibly 1,000—may have perished in the bursting of a hydro-electric dam in the vicinity of the Alessandrian town of Ovada were made tonight by rescue workers. The raging flood waters, pouring through the shattered dam on the swollen Orba River, laid waste an area of forty-three square miles in the vicinity of Ovada today.

A vast volume of water, stored up by mountain storms, swept over the countryside, washing away scores of homes, wiping out small factories and crumbling a half dozen railroad and highway bridges.

Rescue workers, troops and police, said they could compute no definite toll of the dead until daylight.

SCORES ARE INJURED

Scores of injured were given emergency treatment at hospitals and first-aid stations. Others made homeless by the sudden flood spent the night in makeshift shelters.

Destruction of the hydro-electric power station at the dam threw the area into darkness, adding to the havoc. Power service over a wide area was disrupted.

The catastrophe descended on the hapless countryside with tragic suddenness. The first warning was a terrific roar like that of thunder rolling in the surrounding mountains, as the dam collapsed.

GREAT WALL OF WATER

Then a great wall of water rolled down the river, engulfing towns and villages. First reports said 100 inhabitants were drowned in Ovada alone—a town of about 10,000.

In the absence of more definite information, police tentatively

IS BELIEVER IN PLAIN SPEAKING

Lord Cecil Warns Against Repeating Blunder of Twenty Years Ago

LONDON, Aug. 13 (AP). — Lord Cecil, former Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said today that "only plain speaking can save us from a repetition of the fateful blunders of twenty years ago."

"We (England) must tell Italy in plain, decisive words we are not bluffing and that we are ready to carry out our solemn obligations to the League Covenant no matter how drastic an action may be required," he asserted.

"Our path is clear, and first, England must exercise economic and diplomatic measures to prevent hostilities. If those fail, we must call on the League members to unite and meet force by force if need be."

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Lord Cecil, a leading advocate of peace, earlier expressed his views at a special meeting of the executive committee of the League of Nations Union. The committee adopted a resolution insisting upon collective action by League members to prevent a war between Italy and Ethiopia.

Lord Cecil asserted that "the Great War might have been avoided if England had stated in unmistakable language in 1912 that it would tolerate no invasion of France. Germany then would not have misunderstood the British Government's position and the tragedy that followed probably would have been averted."

TOURIST SEASON WILL BE LONGER

Publicity Bureau and Hotels Report Continued Increase in Number of Visitors

The tourist season for Vancouver Island is apparently going to be longer than usual, the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau and several hotels report.

In other years the peak of the tourist travel was reached by July 4, and from then to September 1 it was usually steady. This Summer, however, automobile and passenger travel is still steadily increasing. Last Sunday alone, 110 foreign cars were brought by ferries to Victoria. Many more came to the Island through other ports.

Judging from the large numbers of inquiries received at the local publicity bureau, many Canadians and Americans have put off their holidays until late in August or early September.

Liberal Leader Announces Party's Policy on Trade With Great Britain

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Aug. 13 (CP).—Immediate adoption of the Empire trade policy outlined by Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin at the 1932 Ottawa Imperial Conference, a policy of lowering tariffs in the Empire rather than raising them against foreign countries, is the aim of the Liberal party, Liberal leader W. L. Mackenzie King said here today.

Had Mr. Baldwin's proposals been adopted in 1932 the depression would have been over and the wave of economic nationalism now sweeping the world would never had developed, Mr. King said. Prime Minister R. B. Bennett had had his chance and had missed it; but if a Liberal Government was returned to power one of Mr. King's first acts would be to go to Mr. Baldwin, now Prime Minister of Great Britain, and tell him that Canada was now ready to accept his plan.

OPENS ONTARIO CAMPAIGN

Accompanied by Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn, of Ontario, Mr. King opened the Liberal campaign in Western Ontario here when the two addressed a picnic in support of A. S. Rennie, M.P., Liberal candidate in Oxford County. Tomorrow he travels to Wingham for another picnic.

By raising tariffs the Bennett Government had restricted the exchange of goods and increased unemployment, said Mr. King. It had led to the closing of foreign markets against Canada by such retaliatory action as Japan had just taken.

Mr. Baldwin's sound ideas on

SAILORS LEAVE SHIP IN HARBOR

Crew of Ss. Everett Refuses to Work Vessel in Vancouver—Leave for Tacoma

VANCOUVER, Aug. 13 (CP).—Seventeen firemen, oilers and deckhands of the Tacoma-Oriental Line Ss. Everett, who refused to work the ship today, left tonight for Tacoma, Wash.

The men were taken into custody by Canadian immigration officials here after they walked off the ship but were later released when they announced their intention of returning to the United States port at their own expense.

Some 500 tons of peanut oil was discharged from the vessel yesterday at Terminal Dock, but the men refused to move the ship to Ballantyne Pier to discharge 500 tons of peanuts, later walking off the ship.

All-Canadian Store Opened in London

In an attempt to stimulate demand for Canadian products, the store pictured above has been opened in London, England. The store does not compete with retailers, but is used to demonstrate Canadian products and distribute free samples. The experiment is also being tried in many other English cities.

Soviet Ship Believed Near Land in Unexplored Polar Area

MOSCOW, Aug. 13 (AP).—The Soviet ice-breaker Sadko wirelessed today she had found signs indicating the presence of land in an unexplored area northeast of Greenland, about 275 miles from the North Pole. This area at present is a blank spot on maps. The Sadko is carrying a party of scientists on an exploration trip under the command of George Ushakoff.

After penetrating a few miles into the blank spot, the Sadko crew found the depth of the sea decreased from 450 metres to 150 metres and the bottom was covered with pebbles which, the explorers said, indicated the possibility of land nearby.

Three Victorians Advance in Play At Oak Bay Club

Andrew Sheret, A. T. Goward and Hon. John Hart Win Opening Matches in Seniors Golf Tourney — Joshua Green Survives — Strong Wind Sweeps Course Throughout Day

PLAYING in a stiff southwestern wind, which swept in from the ocean with gale-like velocity at times, a trio of Victorians blew themselves into the second rounds of the grand championship as match play opened in the thirteenth annual Seniors' Northwest Golf Association tournament yesterday at the Oak Bay links.

Accompanying the local veterans past the first hurdles were five Americans, three from Seattle, including the present titleholder, Joshua Green, and one each from Portland and Bellingham. Capital City golfers to advance were Andrew Sheret, A. T. Goward and Hon. John Hart.

Never before in the history of the seniors' tournament has such a powerful wind swept the sea-bordering Oak Bay course. It was so strong shortly after noon that the official scoring pavilion, which is well constructed, was blown out of position. Greenkeepers at the club soon got into action and fortified the heavy framework.

Italians Admit Expecting Nothing in Paris Talks to Retard Military Programme in Africa—Ethiopian Chieftains Eager for Action

PARIS, Aug. 13 (CP-Havas). — Smiling his well-known smile Anthony Eden stepped from the train at the Gare Du Nord just before 9 o'clock tonight, bound on a mission that may mean peace or war in East Africa.

The Italo-Ethiopian drama shifted to the French capital as Britain's Minister for League of Nations Affairs arrived for the tripartite conferences with France and Italy.

Eden and Premier Laval, who is also France's Foreign Minister, will meet Baron Pompeo Aloisi, of Italy, on Friday in the tri-power talks in which the British and French will

The Governor-General, who has been in residence at the Citadel, Quebec, will be in Ottawa tomorrow to affix his signature to the proclamation which ends the seventeenth Parliament since Confederation — just four days before it would have passed out by lapse of time.

WORKER MUST HAVE BENEFIT

Otherwise No Tariff Protection for Industry, Says Hon. H. H. Stevens

CALGARY, Aug. 13 (CP).—A general principle governing tariff protection was enunciated here tonight by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Reconstruction Party leader. He would afford protection to industry only so far as that protection was passed on to workers in the industry. In making this brief statement, he remarked that certain industries in Eastern Canada, "notably the cotton industry," were denouncing his views.

Standing on a crowded platform in the centre of an auditorium jammed to the roof, the Reconstruction Party leader said concentration of financial power necessitated Government control.

"It is suggested that Governments should keep out of business," he said. "In a general way I agree. The Radio Commission, for instance, can hardly be regarded as a success from a business point of view."

But Government need not go into business. It could control and direct. With such great aggregations of financial power in industry, it became essential that the Government step in and direct interrelations of industry and public.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (CP).—"Jafsie" Condon has gone on the stage. The educationist who figured prominently in the trial of Bruno Hauptmann is billed at Bronx Theatre as "the man who broke the Lindbergh case." His fifteen-minute lecture carries the not very original title, "Crime Does Not Pay."

FRESH WIND WHIPS SMOULDERING HEAP INTO RAGING BLAZE

Flames From Old Mill Debris Pile Become Active After Year—Big Store and Several Dwellings Wiped Out—Merchant Slightly Burned in Fire Fighting

AFTER smouldering for a year and a day in the sawdust pile following the destruction of the big mill at Shawnigan Lake on August 12, 1934, fire blazed into activity yesterday afternoon, and whipped by a strong wind wiped out Fraser & Stewart's store, five dwellings and the old cook house belonging to the former mill. The loss will be heavy, probably about $20,000. The fire is still burning in green timber.

Shawnigan Lake residents organized into fire-fighting squads under P. Sweatman, W. Waldon, W. Mudge and W. B. Broocke fought desperately to save the buildings from destruction. Word was sent to Duncan, and a locomotive and water tank car were sent from that place, while Provincial Police were also sent from the detachment there. As word of the outbreak spread to neighboring centres, crews of men arrived from Mill Bay, Cobble Hill, Cowichan Station and Koksilah to lend assistance.

FANNED BY HIGH WIND

When the big Shawnigan Lake mill was destroyed by fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, a year ago, the great piles of sawdust, accumulated through years of milling operations became ignited. It smouldered continuously, and even the heavy rains of Winter failed to penetrate to the lower levels of the dust heaps. Yesterday afternoon, fanned by a forty-mile wind, the top mass of sawdust burst into flame. Sparks were whipped into the air, and within a few moments had started fires in several places.

It was shortly after 2 o'clock that

BUCHAREST, Aug. 13 (AP). —Rumania's No. 1 bandit, the celebrated Coroju, who practises painless robbery, escaped from jail again today. Two Injured In Explosion On Mainland

NEW WESTMINSTER, Aug. 13 (CP).—George Hamre, Aldergrove garage proprietor, is in hospital with a fractured left leg and head injuries as a result of the explosion of an empty gas drum in the garage today. His twenty-year-old daughter, Verna, was blown through the open doors of the garage, but escaped with minor scratches.

Verna was assisting her father in cutting the top from the drum with an acetylene torch when gas fumes in the barrel, apparently ignited from the torch, exploded.

NO MORE CREDIT GIVEN FOR COAL

Italy Fails to Pay and Miners Lose Jobs—Orders Soviet Barley

LONDON, Aug. 12 (CP-Havas).—Failure of Italy to pay for large coal orders placed since the Italo-Ethiopian conflict became critical has created a difficult situation in the Newcastle mining district.

Sums owed to about a dozen firms by Italy total about £500,000. Exporters refuse to give further credit, and as a result, many miners are unemployed.

News of huge barley orders in the Soviet Union indicated Italy was ranging farther afield in quest of supplies for the army being assembled in East Africa.

CONTRACT FOR ROAD

At the same time The Financial News confirmed reports of a road-building contract awarded to a Swiss firm to build a highway west from Addis Ababa to the Ethiopian border on the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, a road of great strategic importance. Official circles, the newspaper said, insisted the deal was purely commercial.

Italy ordered 9,000 tons of barley from the Soviet Union, it was reported here, awarding the contract over Canadian, Argentine and Danubian growers' bids.

The consignment has been loaded aboard a British ship for transit to Massowa, it was said. Another cargo is to leave next month.

Pageant of Kow-itt'zen Tribe Culminates in Fulfillment of Romance

A saffron-tinted Western sunset, with swaying wind-tossed trees adding a touch of frontier loneliness to the scene, gave atmosphere to a realistically-picturesque series of Indian dances and ritualistic dramas carried out at the Royal Athletic Park last night before three thousand spectators.

Staged by the Dominion Day celebration committee in connection with the Navy Week programme, the ceremony culminated in a tribal wedding which united the Princess, "Daughter of the Weeping Cascade," with "The Son of the Rolling Thunder." The first part of the programme consisted of dances and typical Coast Indian songs, dramatizing a tribal story into which the romance of the wooing and wedding were woven. In the rhythmic swaying, twisting, and bending of the blanketed warriors and maidens, in the monotonous chanting of the voices, the spectators sensed the symbolism characteristic of the Island tribes.

THE WEDDING

For a background, the wedding, which was the climax of the evening's interest, had two giant crackling fires which sent their fragrant smoke across the campus accompanied by a river of sparks that gave half-savage brilliance to the silvery moonlight that flooded the field. A circle of spot-lights also illuminated the scene.

Giant Plane Arrives at Second Base

MIDWAY ISLAND, Aug. 13 (AP).—The Pan-American Clipper landed here at 3 p.m. today, completing a flight of 1,323 miles from Honolulu in eight hours and fifty-two minutes. In three or four days the big machine will continue on to Wake Island, 1911 miles from here.

Officials of Pan-American Airways said the plane's record today indicated that a regular nine-hour schedule will be established for air service between Honolulu and this island. The Clipper today averaged approximately 157 miles per hour, figured on a basis of 1,388 land miles separating Pearl Harbor and Midway.

FRENCH ENVOY ENJOYS VISIT

Hon. Raymond Brugere Foresees Closer Trade Relations With Canada

Hon. Raymond Brugere, French minister to Canada, is both surprised and delighted with all he sees on the Pacific Coast, he declared yesterday afternoon at the Empress Hotel.

He is surprised with the importance of the two leading British Columbia cities and delighted with the natural beauty of the country. This is the French envoy's first visit to Western Canada and he is finding everything interesting, and explains that he finds the people charming.

There is no special significance to his visit, it being merely one of pleasure, Mr. Brugere explained in good English.

TRADE AGREEMENT

As a result of the new French agreement with Canada, the official looks for considerable increase in business between his country and Canada, he said with considerable enthusiasm. An exhibition of French products will be held shortly in Montreal and it is expected that this will do much to stimulate interest in that direction.

In company with Paul Suzor, French consul at Vancouver, and Mrs. Suzor, the minister enjoyed a ride over the Malahat and about the Lower Island yesterday afternoon. He declared the beauty of the Island was "magnificent," and it was his earnest wish to return here at an early date.

With Mr. and Mrs. Suzor, he plans to leave today for Vancouver, en route back to his headquarters in Ottawa.

Mr. Brugere, who has filled his present office since October last, was formerly in the French Government service in Berlin.

Potato War Added To Milk Dispute In Marketing Test

Provincial Police Embattled at Eburne, With Forty-Truck Caravan Crashing Barrier at Dawn—Prosecutions Expected to Follow

SUDDEN alarms from the British Columbia Vegetable Board; wires from the embattled Provincial Police stationed at bridge-heads at Eburne and elsewhere, and urgent telephone calls from barristers kept the Provincial Department of Agriculture and the Attorney-General's Department on the move yesterday, as the "potato war" in Vancouver entered a second stage, with wholesale confiscation of Chinese-grown potatoes.

At the end of the day the British Columbia Vegetable Board had the names and addresses of those who were asserted to have run the blockade, and thirty-two tons of seized potatoes, now stored in its own warehouse. A string of prosecutions are in prospect, following the halting of a second caravan which attempted to run the Eburne police barrier at 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

ELUDED GUARDS

On the day previous, fourteen trucks, succeeding in eluding the police on a ruse, crashed the barrier and took their contents into Vancouver, allegedly against the quota regulations of the marketing

Mob Storms Newfoundland Court And Releases Four Prisoners in Bloody Encounter

PORT AUX BASQUES, Nfld., Aug. 13 (CP).—A clash between Port Aux Basques laborers and outsiders reached a climax today, when a mob released four local men who had been convicted of assault.

The word "guilty" was a signal for the mob to storm the court house. Before the police could remove the prisoners to jail to start their sentences, the sympathizers set the four free.

They had been charged following a bloody encounter between the local men and laborers brought in from outside points to unload paper at the Port Aux Basques storage sheds.

Highland Games Set For Athletic Park To Be Held Yearly

First of Series Prepared for Saturday, August 24—Over 200 Entries Are Already in Committee's Hands for Varied Programme

OVER $500 in gold and silver medals, cups and cash prizes will be given away at Victoria's first annual Highland Games, to be held under the auspices of the Tourist Trade Development Association at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday, August 24.

Intimation has been received that local entrants will encounter stiff competition from Vancouver, Seattle, Calgary and Winnipeg Scots who intend to carry home some of the silverware. The committee in charge hopes to make the games the biggest ever held on the Pacific Coast and is making provision for their continuance here as an annual attraction. Over 200 entries have already been received by the Tourist Trade Development Association in the Arcade Building.

Games will be controlled by the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Association, Burns' Club and other local Scottish organizations. Robert Smith, well-known from Gyro Christmas hamper campaigns, will be the announcer. Miss Lillian Grant, queen of the 1935 Victoria Day celebration, will pipe an official welcome to all visitors arriving by boat.

PIPE BAND COMING

Pipe-Major James Horne will bring the famous C.P.R. Pipe Band to the city for the contests. The C.P.R. is now being approached to run special excursions from Vancouver and Seattle for those who wish to participate in or witness the games.

The programme will commence at 10 a.m. and the games will end with open air Highland community dancing and a torchlight parade. The grounds will be illuminated with flood lights for the final events. Those who appreciate such Scotch foods as haggis will be able to purchase many varieties of cooking common to the Land of the Thistle.

There will be twenty different classes for dancers at the Highland Games, including Highland Fling, Seann Truibhas, Sword Dances, Reels of Tulloch, Irish Jigs and Hornpipes. Piping contests will include marches, strathspeys and reels for adults and children of all ages. The sports programme will embrace 100, 200 and 440-yard dashes, running jumps, tossing the caber, shot putting, old men's race, medley relay races, quoit pitching, tug-of-war, pipers' race, ladies' races and a one-mile race. Sports will be held under sanction of the British Columbia Amateur Athletic Union.

placed the number of homes destroyed at "more than 100," and said scores of others were wrecked beyond hope of repair.

Many bodies were buried under the ruins of homes and it was believed numbers would never be recovered.

PROPERTY LOSS HEAVY

First estimates placed the damage at 300,000,000 lire (approximately $25,000,000).

All crops in the area, including grapes, grain and vegetables, were razed.

Survivors who reached here told how entire families were wiped out by the torrent that rushed down the valley, pouring through doors and windows and finally carrying the dwellings from their foundations.

Inhabitants of Ovada and the neighboring villages of Rocca Grimalda, Casalto and Cermelli fled for their lives before the sudden wall of water. Scores were homeless and although the waters were receding tonight, they sought shelter in the open, fearing to return to their inundated dwellings.

PRECEDED BY STORM

A terrific storm that broke over the surrounding mountain area, swelling the waters of the River Orba, was blamed for the disaster.

The victims were mostly women and children who were trapped in their homes.

MANY TERRIFIED BY DRUNKEN MAN

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP).—Thirty terrified passengers escaped through windows and emergency doors of a bus which for fifteen minutes today was driven at the commands of a drunken man who went berserk with a beer bottle as a weapon.

After a wild ride during which he turned the vehicle at the whim of the drunk, the driver suddenly jerked it to a stop in front of a traffic officer.

The passengers lurched out pell mell as the officer sought to get into the bus. The terrorist threw the bottle at the officer, who promptly shot the man in the leg.

FOUR GUILTY OF MURDER

Three Dancers Are Taken Screaming From Court—To Serve Life Terms

DETROIT, Aug. 13 (AP).—William Lee Ferris and three former burlesque show dancers were convicted by a recorder's court jury today of the $134 holdup-murder of Howard Carter Dickinson.

Judge John A. Boyne said he would pass sentence of life imprisonment, mandatory under Michigan law, on the four self-styled "cocktail bar racketeers" Thursday.

The three women, Florence and Loretta Jackson and Jean Miller, who have interrupted the trial frequently with emotional outbreaks, were taken screaming from the courtroom.

SHOWS LITTLE EMOTION

Ferris showed little emotion.

All the defendants, in their testimony, repudiated the statements in which they said they plotted to kill Dickinson, in hope of obtaining sufficient funds to start a tent show.

Dickinson was a nephew of Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes. They induced him to join them in a drinking party, which ended in the attorney's death in Rouge Park here the night of June 26.

PLEAD GUILTY TO STEALING

Two Youths Who Confessed To Taking Goods From Autos Are Remanded

Two youths were in court yesterday on charges of being implicated in the theft of goods from automobiles. One of them, who is over the age of eighteen, appeared in city court with four counts to which he pleaded guilty, while the other youth, who fell within the limit of the juvenile court, appeared before George Jay, judge of the court, where he pleaded guilty to the offences.

In the case of the older boy, a remand until Thursday was granted on the request of an aunt, who has taken an interest in him. In the juvenile court, a remand was granted also until the same day.

SUGGESTED DELAY

When the case of the older boy was called in the police court, C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, suggested that perhaps the accused might want to have an attempt to locate his father, who was supposed to be in California. The youth, however, dissented and said he did not want any delay on this account.

The offences of theft alleged against him consisted of the stealing of trousers and sweater and some other articles belonging to F. Godfrey; the theft of goods belonging to J. L. McIntyre, valued at less than $25; the breaking into an automobile at Thetis Lake belonging to Harry Buckle and the taking therefrom of two watches and $18 in cash, and the taking of candy from a car belonging to a traveler, P. W. J. Macdonald.

RECOVERED PART

The evidence of Detective H. F. Jarvis, of the city police, and of Sergeant Richard Harvey, of the Provincial Police, who had charge of the Thetis Lake theft case, was that the goods had been recovered at the room of the accused, with the exception of the $18 taken from the car of Mr. Buckle and a few other articles taken from Mr. Godfrey.

The charges against the second boy in the juvenile court included participation in the theft of the candy from the car of Mr. Macdonald and another theft of sun glasses from the car of Dr. R. Mitchell.

POTATO WAR ADDED TO MILK DISPUTE

body. Yesterday the police doubled the guards, and confiscated tons of potatoes from trucks out of the early morning caravan that attempted to run the blockade.

Thus the British Columbia Marketing Act came under fire from a second angle, a court test having already developed in connection with the pooling of milk in the Greater Vancouver milkshed.

The history of the differences between Vancouver Chinese and the British Columbia Vegetable Board goes back to a date earlier in the year when the Chinese producers complained the marketing quota set for them did not permit them to clear their land and get it back into production with the next crop.

QUESTION OF PRICE

The board insisted on its regulations, in protection of a market price for potatoes much above what it had been in the last three years of the depression, at about $24 a ton. The Chinese offered to sell for less, if permitted, but were told both by the board and also by the Minister of Agriculture that they could not run counter to the decrees of the board. Matters were at that impasse when active reprisals were undertaken on Monday by some of the growers affected.

Early on Monday a string of some fourteen trucks arrived at the barrier at Eburne en route to the Vancouver market. A leading truck carried potatoes ticketed in accordance with the rules of the board. After examiners had released this vehicle the whole string ran through the barrier, it is asserted.

BEFORE DAWN

Yesterday at 3 a.m. a large caravan of forty trucks appeared at the bridgehead, some trucks turning back as those in front were examined, and others pressing on. Prepared for the manoeuvre, the police searched the vans, and confiscated a large consignment of potatoes which was then sent to the warehouse of the British Columbia Vegetable Board.

The board, composed of Leslie Gilmour, chairman; Col. A. W. McLellan and A. H. Peterson, advised the Government of the seizure, and of the several attempts made to run the blockade.

Speaking on behalf of the Government yesterday, Hon. K. C. MacDonald said the law would be enforced regardless of who made the breach. Prosecutions, he intimated, will be begun shortly by the vegetable board against those allegedly breaking its regulations by the shipment of non-quota potatoes. The penalty clause in the Covering Act provides for fines not exceeding $500 or up to three months' imprisonment.

CHINAMAN HURT

During the scuffle at the Eburne barrier yesterday one Chinese, who insisted on going on to the city, complained of being roughly treated. He was taken to hospital immediately by the police for examination, where it was ascertained he had strained the muscles of one shoulder.

That was the situation as made clear here yesterday in reports to various branches of the Government. The next move, it is understood, will be that of the British Columbia Vegetable Board, in prosecutions in the courts for alleged breach of the potato-quota regulations.

Government spokesmen made it clear they are standing fully behind the vegetable board, which is represented by R. L. Maitland, K.C., who is also counsel for the Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board.

Ushering in the bridal couple was a masked dancer in ceremonial dress consisting of a grotesque mask representing an eagle's face, topped by a massive head-dress of feathers and knotted wool made from white mountain goats' hair. He wore a cloak of eagles' feathers and a barbaric rattle of abalone shells, and ankle rattles of deer's hoofs. This dancer led a little girl to a swing, this ceremony and its associated intimations implying that the bride's father was a rich man.

A throne, in the meantime, had been prepared in the centre of the field for the bride and bridegroom. Covered with heavy white Indian blankets, it was occupied for a short space by the bride-to-bet and her attendants. The masked dancer then went for the bridegroom, whom he presently escorted, to a position in front of the wedding dais. Then the marriage dance began, first at a slow measured rhythm, and gradually working up to a frenzied pace.

Following the dance, the groom was conducted to his bride, who wore a dress of great value. It was of black shiny material, embroidered with hundreds of miniature canoe paddles and beading which gave the effect of circle upon circle of fringes.

With majestic brevity one of the headmen declared the knot tied, at which point Mayor Leeming and Alderman T. W. Hawkins advanced to be presented to the couple, the latter carrying a bouquet which he presented to the bride, and Mayor Leeming bearing the gift of a silver tea service which he presented on behalf of the citizens of Victoria. His Worship bestowed the ceremonial kiss on the bride's brow to the ringing applause of the many onlookers. Through a megaphone he extended the congratulations of the citizens to the newly-wed pair.

The ceremony was brought to a close by the warriors pressing round in time-honored style and seizing the bride's blanket robe in the hope of securing, for good luck, some fragment of her dress as a souvenir.

PROGRAMME BEGINS

The first part of the programme opened with a procession of warriors and their women, a brave showing as they circled the field in their long white blankets, their feather-tipped head-dresses, the women wearing more colorful shawls, skirts and blouses.

The procession was followed by a feast-dance at the legendary wedding of Pale Moon to Eagle Eye.

The Kow-itt'zen Tribe then decided to pay a friendly visit to the Woodpecker Tribe, of Campbell River, there to make peaceful overtures to one of their hereditary foes. The journey to Campbell River was dramatized by the dance of the paddles. This was a truly picturesque bit of symbolism, the motley throng of aborigines advancing slowly round the field to a rhythmic motion of their paddles, accompanied by the "Feast Song on the River." This won much applause and cheering.

Reaching the land of the Woodpeckers, the Kow-itt'zens, wishing to express their peaceful intentions, sang "The Song of Peace."

COMEDY SKETCH

Representative of the form of entertainment that the Indian provides for his host when he goes on a mission of this kind to a foreign tribe, was the comedy sketch called "The Song of the Dying Deer." In this the hunters were seen stalking the deer, the latter represented by one of the warriors, whose antics provided the comedy, even in its death throes, cut short by one of the huntsmen thrusting his spear into its heart.

During the feast the Son of the Rolling Thunder became enamored of the Daughter of the Weeping Cascade. It was explained by the announcer that the maiden made her own choice of a husband, this being contrary to Indian tradition, but acceptable to the parents, who would otherwise have chosen the husband for her.

WARRIORS' DANCE

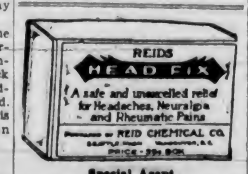

The next incident presented was "The Warriors' Dance," presaging the battle with the Woodpeckers. This dance gave the signal for war, and later the departure of the canoes with 500 warriors to attack the invading enemy. A subsequent dance celebrated the victory of the Kow-itt'zens over the Woodpeckers, but after the dance of victory tribute was paid to their own heroes who had fallen in battle. This led to the funeral ceremony, a most solemn ritual, during which the audience was specially requested to observe a respectful silence.

The body of a chief, wrapped in his blanket, the head swathed in silken scarf so that none might see his face in death, was brought forward by four blanket-robed guards, who set it down in a place indicated by a warrior who preceded them with a drum.

FUNERAL ORATION

A funeral oration was given in tribal tongue before the requiem music and procession took place, during which the mourners, with evergreen branches twisted in their hair as a symbol of death, once more circled the field with mournful dirge and chant. When once more gathered round the remains, another oration took place before the interment ritual, which included a family tribal funeral hymn followed by "Nearer My God to Thee," sung very slowly, in Indian, as the mourners stood respectfully round the grave. During this the Christian padre, Father W. M. Neway, of Duncan, stood by.

The preparation and direction of this realistically dramatized series of Kow-itt'zen Indian legends reflects great credit on Father Neway.

ACHING TOOTH LEADS TO ASSAULT CHARGE

In the city police court yesterday, Arthur L. Salmon was fined $25, or in default, ten days in jail, on a charge of having assaulted Dr. Stanley F. Miles. Behind the whole trouble was an aching tooth, the property of the accused. The accused had demanded that the dentist pursue a certain line of treatment of the offending molar, but the dentist differed in the treatment, which led to trouble between them, followed by the dentist assisting the patient to leave the room. In the proceeding it was alleged that the accused kicked the dentist.

Dr. R. J. Endicott, who had attended Dr. Miles following the injury, said that there was some danger that some future trouble might occur from the kick. Miss Jean Penwick testified to seeing the assault.

John L. Clay, who appeared for the accused, argued that it was questionable whether the accused had kicked the informant, and the accused should have the benefit of any doubt, but the magistrate felt that the offence had been committed.

Dogs Have Edge In Damaging War

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Aug. 13 (AP).—Centreville Township's dog war continued merrily today—with the dogs, if anything, holding an edge.

At the close of the second day of a drive to rid the city of an estimated canine population of 5,000, two imported dog catchers had only seventy-eight victims.

The township launched the drive after seventy-five of its 9,000 citizens had been bitten in recent weeks.

Linking of Navies Seen as Safeguard To Peace of World

Mayor David Leeming Visualizes British and United States Navies as International Peace Factor—Official Luncheon for Officers

"WHEN the British and United States Navies are linked together in a common purpose I am convinced there will be no more war. I am convinced that the peace of the world would be assured by such a combination of strength. We hear much talk of such an event, I think we should try it," Mayor David Leeming declared, amid applause, at the official luncheon tendered to visiting naval officers by the city and Province in the Duke of Kent dining-room, Empress Hotel, yesterday.

Officers from H.M.S. Danae, U.S.S. Salt Lake City, the Esquimalt Naval Base, Military District No. 11 and public dignitaries were present.

"We in Victoria have a real and genuine affection for the Navy. Esquimalt, at one time, was the station for at least five British men-of-war, and it was a distinct loss to us when they were taken away," the Mayor said.

REVIVE TRADITION

"However, through the establishment of Navy Week we hope to revive the traditions of the past and live to see the day when this port again will have more naval ships stationed here than at the present time."

Capt. C. H. Knox-Little, commander of H.M.S. Danae, said that it was the second time he had been fortunate enough to be in Victoria for Navy Week, but expressed his regret that it would be the last visit of the Danae, which was due to return to Plymouth in October for retirement. "We have visited most ports on the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard, and covered some 60,000 miles. It is coincident that commander of one of the British destroyers during the war, to act as convoy to troopships, and not once did he lose one of his charges.

Sir Thomas Astley Cubitt, Governor of Bermuda, expressed his appreciation at being invited to partake of lunch with the visiting officers, particularly as he knew so many aboard H.M.S. Danae.

Addressing Captain Farquhar, Sir Thomas expressed the hope that some day, before he was recalled to England, President Roosevelt would honor Bermuda with his presence. "Nothing could give me greater honor than to be his host upon such an occasion," he declared, adding that he knew that it was the President's desire to visit Bermuda.

on this last cruise of ours we should visit so historic a port as Victoria," he said.

With H.M.S. Danae and U.S.S. Salt Lake City in port, the public was afforded a splendid opportunity of "viewing the elderly lady" (Danae) and the "young girl" (Salt Lake City), the latter with her sleek, modern lines, and the other with seventeen years of service behind her.

EXTEND VISIT

Capt. Allan S. Farquhar, commander of U.S.S. Salt Lake City, announced to the gathering that there was such general elation aboard ship when the order came to proceed to Victoria for Navy Week that Washington had been wired to seek permission to remain the entire week. Consequently the heavy cruiser will remain in port until Monday morning.

He was particularly happy to be in Victoria during Navy Week, he said, and be among Canadians, for he remembered the bravery of the Canadian troops during the war. It had been his duty, he stated, as commander of one of the British

GIVES TALK ON TRADE MATTERS

Prof. W. Carrothers Claims British Columbia Discriminated Against

British Columbia is discriminated against by the national policy of Canada, Professor W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the British Columbia Economic Council, told members of the Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel yesterday. He spoke on "The Trade Position of British Columbia."

Professor Carrothers declared that for every $1 worth of goods shipped out of the province in 1932, only sixty-eight cents worth was received in return. The figure on trade balance was 70 per cent in 1933 and 78 per cent last year.

"British Columbia has continuously been in a disadvantageous position in regard to trade with Eastern Canada," he asserted. "We sell in one market and buy in another. We have often had to sell for less while we were charged more for what we needed. We have to sell far more lumber, fish, agricultural and mining products to receive a fair return than if we exchanged these products direct with Central and Eastern Canada," he stated.

NEED EXPORTS

It would be impossible for British Columbia to be independent and maintain a reasonably high standard of living, he said. The major industries of the province depended upon export to foreign countries, producing revenue which was used to purchase products not originating in British Columbia.

He maintained that it would be impossible for forest industries to carry on if they were dependent upon provincial consumption alone. Agricultural imports were more than the exports because the industry was still a subsidiary one, as it was in early mining days. It had been extremely difficult to secure detailed statistics for the reason that the Dominion Bureau of Statistics was concerned mainly with Canada as a whole.

Each industry of the province was being investigated in detail by the British Columbia Economic Council and actual marketing conditions studied to determine their status in regard to Dominion trade policies. Then it would be possible for legislators to formulate new policies to increase the revenue of the Province.

Dr. A. M. Menzies tendered the speaker a hearty vote of thanks on behalf of the Kiwanis Club and suggested that he give another talk in the near future.

Victoria's Historical Spots

The above photograph shows an ancient Hudson's Bay Company well on the property occupied by Captain O. R. Parker, just above the new Esquimalt Drydock. The well served for many years as the water supply to Hudson's Bay Company traders who operated a large store on the site of the drydock. It is about five feet in diameter and is lined with what appears to be the wrought iron funnel of some old steamer. A photograph taken from the old drydock in 1887 shows four buildings and a small dock where the new graving basin is now located. The last of the structures, a massive stone building, was pulled down in 1927. Captain Parker some years ago dug up an old cannonball in his garden and upon several occasions has come across Indian remains.

LIBERAL PLANS ARE OUTLINED

Will Change Tariffs, Debt, Credit, Currency and B.N.A. Act

After five years of "repression and restriction," Canada was waiting for a Liberal Government to be returned at Ottawa, Jack McDowell, member of the British Columbia Industrial Relations Board and Liberal candidate in the Federal riding of Victoria, submitted in an address before Ward Two Liberals last evening. H. Petticrew was in the chair.

Liberals, once in charge of the country, Mr. McDowell said, would bring about increased production of goods, removal of trade restrictions, increased movement of goods to world markets, reopen the country to entry of consumer goods, bring down the price of manufactured articles, and thereby encourage a general increase in trade. Outside of that, said the candidate, the Liberal party had no promises to make.

BY ELIMINATION

Answering the question: "Why Victoria Should Have a Liberal Representative at Ottawa," Mr. McDowell theoretically eliminated a Conservative representative on the ground that such a choice would be endorsement of the policies of the last five years at Ottawa; and a C.C.F. representative on the ground that that platform could not be put into operation in Canada for many years to come. That left a Liberal, he said, as the remaining choice, after waiving the claims of the fourth party, or the Reconstruction group.

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, in recent addresses, had enunciated what Liberalism stood for, the speaker continued. In this he had spoken not as an individual, but for the party as a whole, on a platform laid down in 1930 and re-endorsed at a national Liberal convention in 1933.

Canada, in this policy, was offered the choice between a return to parliamentary rule and control of the public's business; or a continuation of one-man rule with extraordinary special powers taken from Parliament and placed in the hands of an autocratic government of its agents. Mr. McDowell declared. Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, he submitted, had spoken for himself, while the Liberal leader had spoken for a united party, already in control of the reins of Provincial Governments across the country.

REVISIONS INTENDED

The Liberal party promised a revision of trade and tariffs; a revision of debts, credit and currency; a revision of treatment that had throttled the Canadian National Railways without benefit to its competitor; and genuine, social and economic reform. Control of Government by Parliament, and amendment of the British North America Act were also intended, he said.

Specially, the Liberal party promised a review of domestic and external trade conditions, under which, in the last five years, there has been two tariff increases, imposition of a sales tax rising to 6 per cent, a new excise tax of 3 per cent, foreign exchange dumping imposts, and levies by arbitrary fixation of values of imported goods regardless of invoice costs, Mr. McDowell continued.

Before closing, the speaker touched for a time on British Columbia trade with Japan, to say that Federal action had brought about the present trade restriction. He criticized wheat stabilization under secret control; and variation of tariff levies outside of Parliament. The wheat plan, he said, was a $200,000,000 experiment with the credit of Canada, and might result in a serious loss.

W. H. Kinsman, president of the Victoria Liberal Association, spoke briefly on association affairs. He mentioned the fact there will be no general absentee vote at the coming Federal election.

There is to be a King George V Forest near Nazareth. Its one million trees are to be planted as an expression of the gratitude of British Jewry for the happiness and achievements of His Majesty's reign. The first tree to be planted will be a tree from Windsor Park, a gift of the King.

RETIRED ARMY OFFICER DIES

Col. Rous Cullin, War-Time Commander of 88th Batt. Succumbs Here

Following an illness of several years' duration, Colonel Harold J. Rous Cullin, who commanded the 88th Battalion, C.E.F., during the Great War, died Monday at the Royal Jubilee Hospital. He was sixty-one years of age.

Colonel Cullin was the son of Canon Rous Cullin, Canterbury, Kent, England. He came to Victoria thirty years ago to practise his profession as an architect with Samuel McClure, and later on his own. When the 88th Fusiliers Regiment was formed in 1912, Colonel Cullin joined the unit as senior captain, and two years later was promoted to the rank of major.

ON ACTIVE SERVICE

On the outbreak of war in August, 1914, Colonel Cullin enlisted for active service and was later promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel in command of the 88th, which he took overseas. Colonel Cullin also served during the South African War with the Royal Engineers as a subaltern.

Following his discharge from the army in 1917, owing to ill health, he spent some time in Kelowna, where he was in the Provincial Lands Department. Later he was in business as an architect while in the Interior city.

RETURNED TO CITY

Colonel Cullin returned to Victoria and for eighteen months was in the Provincial Lands Department in the Legislative Buildings, until ill health forced him to retire some three years ago. Colonel Cullin was bursar of the University School when it was formed.

He is survived by his widow and one daughter, both in Vancouver.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

APPEALING TO CUPIDITY

An apostate, whether in the political or religious sense, is always most bitter against the creed that he deserts. Consistency is not a jewel among the heirlooms of his experience. That is very obviously the case with Mr. H. H. Stevens. A part of his "new" political propaganda is to inveigh against the banks. He says that in the past few years the commercial banks have reduced loans by $500,000,000 and that instead of issuing credit to business men they were putting their money in Government securities. Yes, the banks were lending a certain amount of the depositors' money to the Government of which Mr. Stevens was a member, and when this process was in progress the now leader of the Reconstruction Party never raised a word of protest. The Government needed the money; the banks were able to supply it; if the banks had adopted a different policy the likelihood is that the Government would have failed to secure the money and the credit of the country would have been badly injured.

Mr. Stevens, like so many others in these times, has joined the ranks of apostasy and allows his bitterness to outweigh his judgment. He had many and great opportunities of righting the conditions which he says call for redress while he was a member of the Bennett Government, yet he failed. Now his views of banking, political views designed to emphasize the mental unrest that prevails, would indicate that he has given this subject only a cursory study. He is, in fact, putting the cart before the horse in his argument. It is business that creates what are called bank credits, not such credits that create business. Throughout the years of depression the banks have been anxious and willing to lend money for any and every legitimate enterprise, provided that in so doing they could preserve the interests of their depositors. It is mainly by the issue of loans that a bank makes its money, but the duty it owes to its depositors is to see that their money is protected in every possible way. If it did not provide safeguards; if it did not insure that where loans are made they will be repaid, such a bank would face speedy insolvency.

Mr. Stevens in his attitude towards the banks must be speaking with his tongue in his cheek, for it is inconceivable to imagine that with his governmental experience he does not know what are the functions of financial institutions. There is logically a contraction in bank loans when business is bad, when the outlook is uncertain, when depression is rife and when there would be the gravest uncertainty of the repayment of money lent. Mr. Stevens seems to argue that banks create business, by creating "credit." They do not create credit. What they do is, under the proper safeguards, provide facilities for the transaction of business; but the business must first exist before bank loans can be secured. That is sound common sense. Mr. Stevens knows this, but he prefers to make a direct appeal to the cupidity of the masses who do not reason these things out for themselves.

THE NORTH OF IRELAND

Commenting upon the religious riots and loss of life in the North of Ireland, a correspondent writing to The London Spectator mentions certain facts of history, attested, so he says, by certain historians of whom Lord Macaulay is one, which have some bearing upon the religious controversies of Ireland, and asserts that if these facts were known to both sides there would be very little bloodshed in future. He says that if the Free Staters only knew that the Prince of Orange was allied to and a defender of the Pope; and if the men of the North knew that the same Prince of Orange, the William the Third of Glorious, Pious and Immortal Memory, hindered the cause of Protestantism by his opposition to Louis the Fourteenth, who had quarrelled with the Pope and was by way of becoming another Henry VIII, Orange and Green would soon forget their unhappy enmities. They would experience a change of heart, and the Twelfth of July would thereafter be as peaceful in Ireland as any other day of the year.

The mention of Macaulay's name will, no doubt, induce many students to read with increased interest his famous History, which is so largely taken up with the events of the reign of William and Mary. In that work Macaulay takes the ground that no one can understand William of Orange without taking full account of the fact that enmity to France and to Louis XIV was the master passion of his life. William had married his cousin Mary, the elder daughter and presumptive heiress to the crowns of England, Scotland and Ireland. Ultimately William and Mary became King and Queen, but William's whole course showed that his feeling towards his adopted country and even towards his native Holland, was strictly subordinated to his duty, as he conceived it, to the nations of Europe as a whole, threatened at the moment with subjection to the all too powerful Louis. It was the age-old problem of the balance of power.

What were the relations subsisting at the time between England and the Pope? James the Second was so zealous a Catholic that he gallantly risked and finally lost his crown in an endeavor to make England a Catholic country. The Pope, however, thoroughly disliked the domestic as well as the foreign policy of James. He saw that James was doing the Catholic cause in England far more harm than good in attempting to override the laws by the exercise of his alleged dispensing power. Moreover, the Pope regarded James as a mere vassal and tool of Louis. He himself had a very serious quarrel of his own with Louis. That prince had seen fit to insult the Pope in a very gross manner. The Pope had found it necessary to lay an interdict upon the palace of the French King's ambassador, who had entered Rome with a great force of cavalry and infantry with all the appearance of the triumphal entry of a conqueror. As if that were not enough, Louis committed the further error of publicly denouncing the conduct of the Pope in refusing to permit France's nominee to occupy the See of Cologne.

William, on the other hand, succeeded in accomplishing the difficult task of uniting the Empire, several Catholic Kings, and the Holy See, with England and Holland in a league against French ascendancy in Europe. The document which William caused to be published regarding the religious situation in England, while it fully satisfied the supporters of the Church of England and the Protestant Dissenters of that country, contained nothing that could give offence at Rome. On the contrary, it contained distinct assurances that under his administration no Catholic would be molested on account of his religion. William, with his eye fixed rather upon Europe as a whole than upon England or Ireland, was thus able to attract to his side the Protestants who were opposed to James and at the same time secured the good wishes of almost all the Catholic governments and even of the Pope himself.

It is likely that The Spectator article will cause a good deal of spirited discussion in that enterprising journal. The foregoing account as given by Macaulay, if pondered carefully by the two parties in Ireland, might possibly soften some of the asperities of the old quarrel. On the other hand, it might only have the effect of arousing further controversy. It is doubtful if people with such long memories as the Irish could be induced to adopt a new reading and interpretation of history, abandon the point of view to which they have been accustomed for nearly two hundred and fifty years and reconstruct all their political ideas.

MAN AND HIS CLOTHES

Women in their march towards freedom have at least acquired comfort in dress, while men, slaves as they are to conventions, continue trussed up in attire which, except in the matter of games, continues to be uncomfortable, especially in hot weather. Man's only concession to heat is to discard his waistcoat, and its loss makes him uneasy, for he misses the four or five pockets it contains, and has to stow away the cigarette case, the lighter, the comb, the keys, the pocketbook, the bills, the handkerchief, the loose change, etc., etc., in a fewer number of pockets. Man is never content unless he has from twelve to thirteen pockets. A woman can do with a single bag, in which she carries round her personal belongings. She has complete changes of outfit for the warm weather. A man may have a lighter suit, but he still keeps his neck encased with a collar and tie. To discard these would affront the conventions to which man has become the slave. Women can go about with bare legs. If a man were to do this he would feel he looked more than ever like a forked radish fantastically carved, and so he is ruled by custom and habit, which can only be broken by a loss of dignity, and that he would rather retain than win by its sacrifice any degree of comfort.

Man's sartorial progress has been the slowest of all his movements in history. Woman has moved ten times as fast in this respect. The male of the species remains the slave of discomfort. He carries through life, as well as suffocating clothes, from ten to twenty articles of hardware, leather and drygoods. He makes himself a victim of what he has come to regard as the inexpiable woe of custom. If life is worth living, and if its worth depends on the liver, then there would seem to be no wisdom in heating up that organ by wearing clothes that are neither eugenic nor comfortable. Man could well sit at the feet of women and learn how to dress. He, seemingly, will not evolve a scheme of comfort for himself, and the doctrinaires of fashion give him no aid.

To paraphrase Shakespeare, man does look before and he does look after, but he does not look around and see whereby, in the matter of clothes, he might win health and comfort. He is still the creature of Kipling's poem:

"Man, a bear in most relations, worm and savage otherwise,
Man propounds negotiations, Man accepts the —— compromise.
Very rarely will he squarely push the logic of a fact
To its ultimate conclusion in unmitigated act."

Punishment is justice for the unjust.—Augustine.

Doing It With Ceremony

The siren shrieked a warning as the police patrol moved along Douglas Street, pedestrians stopped and looked expecting excitement, and then the "wagon" pulley up at the Douglas and Yates Street intersection. Passers-by looked for the bandit or the thug as two policemen climbed out of the patrol, but alas the "bobbies" just came along to turn on Victoria's new automatic signals. Well, there's nothing like creating an impression, even if only to turn on the traffic signals.—S.T.

Not Conceded Weapons, Anyway!

A knotty question has arisen in the public's mind over the visit of Max Fleischmann's yacht Halda here recently. What appeared to be two-pounder guns on her decks were the centre of attraction to visitors, who wondered under what rule an armed yacht could enter Canadian waters from the United States.—P.C.R.

Saving the Dog!

"When a man bites a dog—that's news," the old test for reporters, is getting a bit timeworn and shoddy. Besides it was hard on the dog and so hairy. May another test, more up-to-date, be suggested? It is, "When a cabinet minister returns from his vacation and does not find business improving and everything satisfactory in my department"—that would be news. But perhaps it will never happen.—S.G.

Tit for Tat

And then there is the story of the quick-witted yachtsman, who scored a point on a rather corpulent customs officer at the Causeway float. The yacht Westward Ho, from Vancouver, with her name and port emblazoned on her stern, was backing into the float when the officer shouted out, "What ship is that?" Back came the retort, "What city is this?"—P.C.R.

Is City Missing Opportunity?

A recent visitor to Victoria who follows the occupation of a gardener in charge of the floral displays at a Summer resort, expressed disappointment with the way in which he felt the city was passing up one of the best forms of advertising itself. This was in the maintaining of attractive displays of flowers in the parks. With all the opportunities that Nature provides in Victoria for flower production, he felt that the citizens were throwing away the chance to make the city a place to be remembered by visitors at very little expense.—O.H.N

Sawmilling on the Street

Not wishing to "horn in," but a "story" in The Colonist last week about an Oak Bay by-law which prohibits the operation of a wood-sawing machine on the streets of the municipality made me think. If memory is not fooling me, that a like enactment was made some good few years ago for the benefit, or otherwise, of Victorians. It was the result, if I can again challenge memory to be kind, of the killing of a sawyer or a passer-by, or both, when the cordwood cutting saw cracked up and pieces were hurled in many directions.—F.M.K.

Following the Seniors

Well, I'm back with the seniors again at the beautiful Oak Bay links. Since the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association was formed thirteen years ago I have had the honor of being with the veterans on every occasion, eight years as a scribe and the other five as a caddie. Lots of fun chatting with these old-timers from all parts of the Northwest. Several new faces amongst them this year, and several who are not present, as they played their last golf stroke since the last tournament at Colwood before passing to the Great Beyond. The first day was full of thrills. Bishop Remington scored a hole-in-one at the ninth, Eddie Senkler took an even dozen at the short second, and we had two Americans tied for medal honors, as well as Jack Rithet shooting a thirty-six and then a forty-six. Bob Johnstone, veteran Seattle golf pro, is helping Phil Taylor, local professional, as starter, and "Cappy" Perks, is just as busy as ever, as is A. V. Macan and N. F. Ferris, official scorers. Mustn't forget the condition of the course. Greenkeeper Frank Ingram has the layout in perfect condition, and Hugh Mackenzie, caddie-master, has his bag-toters ready for duty. Irving McDermott, Walter Armstrong and Jim Iook after the "youngsters" at the nineteenth in fine style.—J.D.

AN INTERNATIONAL POLICE FORCE

Sir,—Of recent years a comparatively few men have advocated the formation of an International Police Force to be employed as the instrument of the League of Nations, as one very practical method of meeting some of the exigencies of the disregard of modern international security or insecurity. For their pains and thought these men have reaped mostly ridicule, indifference and the accusation of impractical idealism.

Today the Italian-Ethiopian situation appears to serve as a target for those who enjoy a wholly inexplicable satisfaction in saying "We told you so, the League is a beautiful idea doomed to failure, while we now have ample proof of the utter impossibility of either the formation or function of an International Police Force." It is a very great pity, and wholly to the impoverishment of the world, that mankind will not exercise the same industry and ingenuity in seeking to justify his existence in regard to his neighbor as he does in seeking excuses to annul the discrepancy between his conduct and his conscience.

In this distressing Italian-Ethiopian incident, the more reasonable argument would be that it established irrevocable evidence of the necessity of the formation of such an organization as the International Police Force, and be it remembered the greatest barrier to be surmounted by that formation has little to do with problems of organization as compared to the problem of man himself. In contrast and conflict to the necessity—to say nothing of moral obligations—is the disease of fear, the weakness and selfishness of expediency, the power of the press, in which we seldom read of earnest thought of how this thing may be overcome, but in which we do read of a supposedly civilized and Christian nation refusing the exportation of material obviously designed to assist in the destruction of men for no loftier motive other than "cash before goods."

The sacrifice which will gladly die for his country, providing it be not asked to think for it, is courageous and admirable, but it is not, in these days, sufficient. The power of thought, and as a result intelligent action, must inevitably triumph in the end. Every emotional, irrational and intolerant international situation brings the establishment of some form of International Police Force steadily nearer, and man will appreciate and employ the benefits it will bestow just as soon as he is made sufficiently uncomfortable to do so.

In Canada we are soon to have a Dominion election. Instead of wasting too much time delving with a muck-rake among the weeds of water which has already flowed beneath the bridge, it would be an admirable thing if every candidate, irrespective of party, were obliged by the electorate—with whom all final responsibility rests—to state in writing under their signature, his or her conception of Canada's duty to the world in her relation to the system, and to what extent they would be prepared to commit Canada in support of Great Britain and her unflinching adherence to the work and principles of the League of Nations—a path to which she is irrevocably pledged by both King and Parliament.

"THRIFT"

Sir,—In your editorial, "Thrift," of August 7, you persist in the fundamental error of confusing government finance and private finance, the national balance sheet of the nation. The observation that individuals and governments cannot spend more than they receive without disaster, is so true as to be trite, but you overlook the third truth.

It is that the people of Canada cannot consume more than they produce unless they receive from foreign lands more than they export. Which is not true. Canada is a net creditor nation; she exports, and must, to pay her interest bills; and last year she not only paid her interest bill but also added, by many millions of dollars, to her net creditor position and increased her "investments" in foreign lands. So we are back at the point where the suggestion that the Canadian people "economize" and "retrench" is seen to be silly. To "economize" and "retrench" means that we should consume less of our own products; that we should thus distribute less purchasing power, and that we should throw more people out of work so that they would add to our relief rolls and thus add to to the debt of governments—Federal, Provincial and Municipal.

Now, where has our policy of "economy" got to? The cold truth is that Canada will never attain prosperity until the Canadian people are given purchasing power in their pockets—not to save, but to spend. Then, when they can spend, not save, they will buy the products of their own industry, and all who engage in the production, from laborer to millionaire, will prosper because the people are working and consuming, not piling up goods in warehouses, like squirrels; not even refraining from working and creating goods for fear that by producing they would have to spend the money to buy them. The Canadian people can only spend their way to prosperity, for only by spending can they purchase the wealth they can create. And no casuistry, no appealing to ancient exhibitories, handed down to us, as you say, from early ages, when men lived in caves and had to hoard a few grains or a little raw meat in order to survive through a Winter, can deny that. It is the survival of cave man economics in an age when the power of production is plainly able to abolish even the threat of poverty for the people, that prolongs the existence of that poverty.—J. CHALMERS.

SECTION 98 AND LIBERALISM

Sir,—If you will grant me space for a reply to Mr. Tuckwell, I shall not trouble you again.

No, I have not read John Buchan's recent utterance protesting against the Communist Party of Britain having been denied the facalities of the British Broadcasting System, but I will take it for granted that he and Mr. Tuckwell favor Communist broadcasts in Canada. That being the case, let me say what sort of propaganda would be heard. It is reasonable to assume that the British Columbia broadcaster would be Arthur H. Evans, the recognized, and, I may add, able leader of the party in this Province. And who is this man? This is what he says of himself. No hearsay, because he admitted his record on oath. He says that he took part in the I.W.W. fight for free speech in Colorado and was wounded by machine gun fire. For two years he took part in strikes which had been declared illegal by the U.M.W.A. He was arrested and convicted of fraudulent conversion of funds and sentenced to three years at Prince Albert. He organized the Mine Workers' Union of Canada, the unemployed and the C.L.D.L. at Princeton. Evans was convicted at the Vernon Assizes in September, 1933, and sentenced to one year's imprisonment under the provisions of Section 98. He appealed, without success. He is now awaiting trial at Regina for further offences. His activities in the Princeton area cost the taxpayers of British Columbia thousands of dollars. His remark to me at Vernon, "They will never stop me until they cut my head off," seems to have been well spoken. The occasion for his prosecution arose at Princeton by reason of his deliberately bringing about strikes of coal miners in the Princeton district, thus causing unemployment and having addressed the men and their wives, mostly foreigners, at several meetings called by him, and I am sure he would have been pleased if he could have broadcast his speeches. I take some of his statements from the duly certified transcript of the evidence given at his trial; so there is no question of my memory failing me. Here they are:

"The work of the Communist Party is to overthrow the capitalist governments throughout the world, and replace them by proletarian-controlled governments, and no other party was of any use to the workers—neither the social democrats nor anyone else, but only the Communist party.

"The change could not be done by the ballot box, but only by force and a united front or the part of the workers.

"We do not advocate the destruction of property, but it almost always occurs when these demonstrations take place, due to the brutality of the police. The workers would rather take the places over, intact, and have them for their own use.

"If I could of my own volition spit in the face of any of the R.C.M.P. I would do so, walk up the street of my own volition and spit in the face of any I met.

"Referring to slave camps it was quite certain they would not go to lousy slave camps and they would demand and demonstrate for relief, and if they did not get it, I am quite sure they would purloin it from the stores.

"You need not be afraid of any scabs coming in to break the strike, because, for every scab who comes in, we will get two men down from the lousy slave camp, or from the slave camp on the road to help picket, and we will demonstrate for adequate relief from the State, and if the State does not give it, we will take over the blinking State and run it for ourselves.

"Instead of teaching our children to sing 'God Save the King,' we should teach them to sing 'God Save Our Class, and to Hell With the King.'

"Socialism cannot exist without Communism, and we are going to have Communism here.

"We must educate the children so they will understand the psychology of the strike, and what it stands for; and instead of telling them to sing 'God Save the King,' let it be 'To hell with the King, have our class, the workers.'

"The only thing for the workers to do is to seize the means of production and overthrow the present system of government. The United Front can do that."

Question by counsel to witness: "Did he advise anyone to go out and use force?" Answer: "His whole speech was the use of force for the overthrow of government. He told them it was the only way it could be done."

Now, Mr. Tuckwell, can you grasp the danger of sowing such seeds on fertile soil? Of course, as a loyal subject of the King, you can. Let your next letter admit the fact.

Finding out what the grievances of the workers—and the workless—are and endeavoring to seek a remedy has nothing whatever to do with Communism. The Communists boast that they cause discontent among the workers; that is part of their vile propaganda, and that leads to the unemployment of the employed. At the Princeton meetings Evans led the singing from a red book, on the front page of which below the figure of a working man stripped to the waist are the words: "To fan the flames of discontent. Songs."

One of the choice songs, the Communists' favorite, is "The Red Flag." I quote the first verse:

"The workers' flag is deepest red,
It shrouded oft our martyred dead;
And ere their limbs grew stiff and cold
Their life-blood dyed its every fold."

Chorus

"Then raise the scarlet standard high;
Beneath its folds we'll live and die,
Though cowards flinch and traitors sneer,
We'll keep the red flag flying here."

Another favorite is "The Internationale." Here is the refrain:

"'Tis the final conflict
Let each stand in his place,
The International Soviet
Shall be the human race."

Evans substituted "International Soviet" for "Industrial Union."

Does Mr. Tuckwell still favor Communist broadcasting? If he does, then I regret that I cannot have the respect for him that he kindly says he has for me. But to be charitable I really do not think he understands the subject under discussion. "Experientia docet." I have had the experience. Has he?

Mr. Tuckwell asks me to be broad-minded and readjust my views. I claim to be broadminded, but I also claim to be loyal, and readjustment of my views would be as impossible as it would be disloyal. There is only one place where anyone should be who says that children should be taught to say "To hell with the King," and that is Moscow or a jail.

The suppression of Communism is the most important task before the people of Canada today. But the Liberal Party would repeal Section 98 and allow the Communists to have their own way. That would be the result of the repeal. Shall we stand for it?

MR. H. H. STEVENS AND THE BANKS

Sir,—On August 4, in Victoria, B.C., the Canadian Press reported that Hon. H. H. Stevens severely censured the banks for buying Government bonds instead of increasing their loans to business and other enterprises. He is reported to have said that the banks "are supposed to supply the lifeblood of Canadian commerce."

In his approach to banking, Mr. Stevens differs from the two million Canadians who, like myself, have their savings largely invested in bank accounts. For depositors, who must outnumber borrowers, by a 1,000 to one, the prime duty of the banks is to safeguard the funds of the depositors.

It is, I believe, peculiarly significant that at the time when Mr. Stevens suggests that my savings bank account be used to finance industry, many of the corporations which are operating profitably cannot find a use in their own businesses for their surplus funds. In short, the reason for the decline in commercial loans is that profitable markets are not available to industry.

There are many reasons why my bank manager wants to make commercial loans. He pays me 2 per cent on my account, yet short-term Government securities yield him as little as 1 1-4 per cent. If Mr. Stevens is correct, then the banks must be losing money on a large proportion of their deposit business.

Viewed also in their larger social implications, the policies of the banks seem sound—at least from the viewpoint of the majority of the population. In a peroid of recovery, the banks can best safeguard the depositor and encourage trade by the purchase of high-grade securities. The demand from the banks and other institutions has forced the price of prime securities to the highest level in history. Yields are lower than ever before. This forces money into other channels. Already there has been a noticeable revival in mortgage lending; some construction has begun; and the low price of long-term money must produce industrial expansion. Projects, unsound when money costs 7 or even 8 per cent, are frequently economic when rates drop to 5 and 6 per cent.

It is not intended here to make a case for the bankers. They are human and therefore fallible—as is Mr. Stevens. But in these times should politicians force banks to make questionable commercial loans, then bank depositors, like myself, would naturally hoard currency, a development leading inevitably to disaster here just at it did in the United States. The banking system is sound in Canada because depositors realize our bankers will not make questionable commercial loans.

May I thank you, Sir, for permitting me thus to express views which are widely held but seldom voiced.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of August 14, 1885).

City Library—Following is the proposition of M. Picken, which was read at the City Council meeting Wednesday evening: "This city of Victoria is greatly in want of some place for intellectual recreation, and I think this cannot be better supplied than by a library and museum. I propose that your Council give me permission to organize and follow out a scheme for the founding of such an institution, which, I am confident, I can do, and that without cost to the city. All I ask in return is employment that will keep me comfortably till the library is completed, when I shall expect the office of librarian as a reward for my efforts."

Gospel Meetings—Both afternoon and evening services were well attended yesterday. There seems to be no lack of interest in these meetings, which are to be continued a few days longer. "The Evidences of Conversion" was the subject chosen by the evangelist for last night's address. The speaker showed in a clear and decisive manner what these evidences were, stating nine distinct reasons by which a true Christian can be assured of a regenerate state. Dr. Graves preaches tomorrow night on "Procrastination."

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

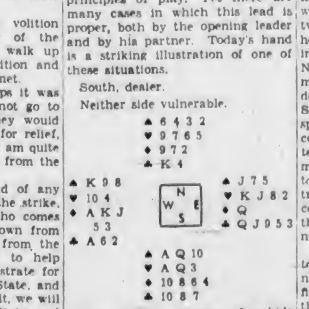

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

LEADING FROM A TENACE

All players are taught to avoid leading from tenaces. To lead the queen from an ace-queen-ten combination violates almost all general principles of play. Yet there are many cases in which this lead is proper, both by the opening leader and by his partner. Today's hand is a striking illustration of one of these situations.

South, dealer.

Neither side vulnerable.

The bidding: (Figures after bids refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South	West	North	East
Pass	1♦	Pass	1♥(1)
Pass	1NT(2)	Pass	2♣(3)
Pass	2NT(4)	Pass	3NT(5)
Pass	Pass	Pass

1. East is too weak to respond with two clubs, which requires two honor tricks. But this does not prevent his making a one-over-one response in his four-card suit. The bidding situation here is very interesting, for although usually a five-card suit is bid before a four-card suit, when too weak for a bid in the five-card suit, the shorter suit may be shown first.

2. A better bid by West would have been two diamonds. His one no trump rebid shows his balanced distribution, but hides the strength of his rebiddable diamond suit.

3. With East's hand, there is a very close question between passing one no trump and bidding two clubs. The fact that he has honors in all four suits determined his choice.

4. Having underbid by bidding only one no trump, West now makes an attempt for game.

5. East is too weak to return to any suit, not having been supported, and decides to gamble for just one trick more in no trump.

THE PLAY

North opened the seven of hearts and West played a low card from dummy. South began looking for the five tricks which would defeat the contract. The first he took with the queen of hearts. He had two aces which would win and he hoped North would have an entry in either diamonds or clubs. If North had this entry, the establishment of one more spade trick would defeat the contract. Therefore, South's next play was the queen of spades. He knew that if West covered with the king, the ace and ten would form a tenace over dummy's jack, and if North got the lead to play another spade, the setting trick could easily be won. Of course, if the queen of spades held the trick it would itself furnish the necessary extra trick required.

West took the king of spades, led to the queen of diamonds and finessed for the king of clubs. The finesse lost and a spade lead through the jack defeated three no trump and justified South's unusual play.

Entries for King's Cup Flying Classic Total Thirty-Three

Organizers Plan Compromise Between "Round-Britain" Course and "There and Back" Laps Recently Staged

Thirty-three entries at single fees for the King's Cup Race, to be flown on September 6 and 7, have reached the Royal Aero Club. They include several craft capable of speeds in excess of 200 miles an hour, and, unless the handicaps again weigh the scales against the fast machines, the race is likely to be won at a considerably higher speed than in any previous year.

The organizers have planned a compromise between the "round-Britain" event of several years ago and the somewhat unsatisfactory series of "there and back" laps that were adopted for more recent contests. On the first day, competitors will fly around England over a total distance of approximately 947 miles. Machines which survive this, the eliminating course, will compete the following day over a number of laps of a circuit of not less than fifty miles in length up to a total distance of 350 miles, starting and finishing at Hatfield aerodrome.

TWO CLASSES

For the eliminating contest, airplanes will be divided into two classes, one of machines in which the total engine power does not exceed 150 b.h.p., and the other of aircraft that exceed 150 b.h.p. Handicapping the survivors in the final round will be governed by the assumption that every machine is capable of completing the course at an average speed of at least 130 m.p.h.

The fastest machine yet entered is a Comet monoplane, similar to the craft that won the England-Australia speed and handicap races last October. Its entrant is Cyril Nicholson. Maximum level speed of the Comet is about 240 miles an hour. Perhaps the next in order of speed is the Percival Mew Gull entered by the Duke of Kent, which does 210 m.p.h. Sir John Kirwin's Heck monoplane, which is notable for wide speed range gained from the extensive use of Handley Page slot devices, is another fast entrant, capable of well over 180 m.p.h.

NEW MACHINES

New machines which will make first public appearances in the race are the de Havilland D.H.90 biplane, a four-five seat cabin craft powered with two Gipsy Major 130 h.p. motors, the T.K. 2 monoplane built by the students of the de Havilland Technical School, and the B. A. Cupid, a new two-seat cabin monoplane. Last year the T.K. 1 biplane, designed and built by the school students, finished fifth. The T.K. 2 low-wing monoplane has two seats in tandem and a Gipsy Major engine; like its forerunner, it has been designed and built entirely at the school.

The D.H. 90 is at present purely an experimental machine, in a similar position to that of the Hornet Moth at the time of the King's Cup Race last year, and no decision has yet been taken whether it will be put into production. Nevertheless, its performance will be watched with the interest always accorded the products of Britain's leading commercial aircraft construction.

RECORD FOR AIR TRAVEL IS MADE

United Air Lines Carried Total of 20,341 Paying Passengers in Month of July

An all-time world's record for air travel was chalked up by United Air Lines in July when its planes, operating between the Pacific Northwest, California and the East, carried a total of 20,341 revenue passengers, it was announced yesterday by W. A. Patterson, president.

Patterson declared that, with the showing, his company became the first to pass the 20,000 passenger mark during a single month's operation. The month showed a gain of 40 per cent over July, 1934, when 14,571 passengers were carried, and approximately 10 per cent over June, 1935, when 18,557 passengers were transported.

"Contributing factors to this world's record in air passenger traffic are faster and more frequent schedules," Patterson stated. "Vacation travel, including traffic to Rainier, Mount Baker, Mount Hood, Crater Lake and other national parks accounts for some of the increase and is an encouraging feature of air transportation. Recent inauguration of overnight service from the East to all major Pacific Coast points has attracted additional traffic."

FRED PERRY TO STAY AMATEUR

World's Ranking Tennis Player Continues to Deny Reports About Turning Professional

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP).—England's Frederick John Perry, No. 1 man among the world's amateur tennis players, seized the opportunity upon his arrival today to dismiss definitely any lingering idea that he contemplates turning professional.

In contrast with previous visits, marked by motion picture offers as well as inducements to join the professional forces led by big Bill Tilden, Perry did not sidestep the matter.

"I am definitely not going to turn professional," he said. "It's true that I had some interesting offers, but my mind is made up not to consider them further. I will play for England in defence of the Davis Cup in 1936—that is, if I'm selected."

Perry will visit Canada, leaving tomorrow night to play in Toronto and Ottawa, before returning to defend his possession of the United States singles championship at Forest Hills, starting August 29. He has won the title twice in a row and hopes to retain the trophy by making it three straight, bue he has his fingers crossed.

ALBERTA SOCCER CLUBS SUSPENDED

CALGARY, Aug. 12 (CP).—The Alberta Football Association yesterday announced indefinite suspension of three Calgary soccer teams—Callies, Hillhurst and C.P.R., members of the inter-city league.

The teams, after agreeing to enter competition for the Alberta Challenge Cup, emblematic of the provincial title, dropped out, association officials said.

"This is construed as tantamount to conspiracy and prejudicial to the best interests of the A.F.A. and the game at large," an executive statement said.

The suspension means that the clubs will be barred from participating in organized football for the time being.

The A.F.A., which intends to proceed with the cup competition, has ordered officials of the three teams to produce all correspondence that passed between the league and its member clubs on this subject.

Sunday School Softball

Y.M.C.A. and Erskine, junior Sunday School Softball League nines, will open their preliminary playoffs this evening at Central Park, when they clash in the first game of the two out of three game series, at 6:15 o'clock. The second encounter will be played Saturday at the same grounds. The eventual winner will advance to the final play-downs against Centennials for the league title.

FRESH WIND WHIPS UP ROARING FLAMES

the sawdust pile broke into flames, and an hour later the fire was licking its way towards the E. & N. tracks, and the houses clustered about the site of the former mill. The home of W. Maitland on the estate of the late Chief Justice Hunter was soon a roaring furnace. Two houses occupied by Japanese were next to fall prey to the fire. Desperate efforts to prevent the destruction of Fraser & Stewart's big store, with its $10,000 stock, were futile and shortly before 5 o'clock the building was in flames.

IS PAINFULLY BURNED

H. Stewart, in endeavoring to battle the fire, was burned painfully about the eyes and was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital. His condition is not serious. Other houses reported to have been destroyed were those of M. A. Furlong and G. Stillwell. In addition, several unoccupied garages were burned, as well as the former mill cook house, and an old oil shed.

Fully 150 men were occupied in fighting the flames. The E. & N. Company, on being advised of the outbreak, dispatched a water-tank car, with auxiliary equipment, which was of material assistance to the fire-fighters.

FIRE STILL RAGING

After the destruction of the Maitland home, the flames got into the green bush on the Hunter property where, at the time of going to press, the fire was still raging.

At another fire in the district, in the vicinity of Cobble Hill, known as the Morgan blaze, W. Freeman was injured in fighting the outbreak yesterday afternoon.

While the conflagration was raging at Shawnigan Lake, a big freight truck caught fire on the Lake-Cousin's cut-off road, and was badly damaged.

BAD FIRE UP-ISLAND

NANAIMO, Aug. 13.—Departure Bay and Nanaimo Harbor is enveloped in smoke which has been carried eighty miles down the gulf by a stiff wind from Hermando Island, Campbell River district, where a forest fire is reported to have made considerable headway.

There is also a fire started by lightning on the mountainside, ten miles above Nanaimo waterworks dam at the south forks, where a gale forty miles in velocity is sweeping down the valley. When the wind abates, fire-fighters will be sent to the scene.

Ten men brought a bush fire in the Timberland district under control today.

Not a Bomb but Only a Poor Tom

BRANTFORD, Ont., Aug. 13 (CP).—Residents phoned police to say a man and a woman had dropped a parcel in a backyard as they walked hurriedly down the street. Police rushed to the scene and, as a crowd gathered, slowly unwrapped the paper bundle. The contents—one dead tom cat.

PETE AND REPEAT

CHARLESTON, S.C., Aug. 13 (CP).—The births of Pete and Repeat Jones, Negro twins, have been duly recorded here.

ENGLISH POET PASSES AWAY

Sir William Watson Dies in Sussex—Thought Worthy Of Laureateship

BRIGHTON, England, Aug. 13 (AP).—Sir William Watson, eminent English poet, died today in Ditchling, Sussex, after a fortnight's illness.

Sir William Watson was born August 2, 1858, in Burley-in-Wharfedale, Yorkshire. His first work, "The Prince's Guest," appeared when he was twenty-two, but he did not win recognition until 1890 when his "Wordsworth's Grave" appeared.

He was stirred by public occasions, and the poetry these inspired led many to term him the "perfect poet laureate," but long before his death he ceased to expect such recognition. His knighthood came in 1917.

Sir William was married in 1909 to Maurine Pring. They had two daughters.

FIREMEN KEPT BUSY BY SERIES OF FIRES IN AND AROUND CITY

City firemen were kept busy yesterday with a series of fires that ranged from grass to roof and attic fires. High winds many times threatened to spread the fires.

Attic and roof fires occurred at the Oak Bay Boat House and at 1025 Pandora Avenue, and a roof fire drew firemen to 1100 Pandora Avenue.

For hours, firemen battled a two-acre grass fire at Pacific Avenue and Cadboro Bay Road. Other grass fires broke out at Moss Street and Rockland Avenue, which occupied the attention of fire-fighters for two hours in the afternoon; in the 800 block on View Street; at the corner of Thompson Avenue and Cadboro Bay Road, and at the corner of Estevan Avenue and Cadboro Bay Road.

A blazing wooden shed at the corner of Fort and Quadra Streets was attended at 7:15 o'clock in the evening. A small grass fire at the foot of South Turner Street was put out at 9:15 o'clock.

ARMED ROBBERS BUSY IN NEW WESTMINSTER

NEW WESTMINSTER, Aug. 13 (CP).—Two armed robbers held up S. Tsuckida, proprietor of a small store on Ewen Avenue, Queensboro, and escaped with the till of the cash register containing $20, police reported tonight.

The pair fled in an automobile driven by a companion.

An hour later a Chinese restaurant on Blackie Street was robbed of $7.50 by a man who walked into the cafe, grabbed the cash drawer, while the proprietor was in the rear and fled.

Process Tax Held Illegal In Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Aug. 13 (AP).—The Agricultural Adjustment Act received a major blow today from Federal District Judge W. Calvin Chestnut, who ruled the hog processing tax unconstitutional and granted the first permanent injunction against its collection.

The processing tax has been declared invalid in several Federal courts ranging up to the Circuit Court of Appeals, but the injunction agreed to by Judge Chestnut was said to be the first judgment of its type against the levy by any court.

ADMITS PERJURY IN MOONEY CASE

Aged Man Testifies He Swore Falsely in Identifying Man Jailed for Bombing

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 13 (AP).—An aged, paralyzed man whose testimony in 1917 aided in sending Thomas J. Mooney to prison for life for the Preparedness Day bombing in San Francisco, today testified under oath that he perjured himself in identifying Mooney as the timer of the bomb which killed ten persons and injured two score.

The testimony, that of John MacDonald, now a patient in Baltimore City Hospital, is the first link of a legal chain which attorneys for Mooney hope will successfully end Mooney's long fight for freedom.

It was taken before a referee named by the California Supreme Court and will be submitted to the court for review before that body passes upon Mooney's petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

STORIED SPOTS FROM SEA TO SEA

By W. J. Banks, B.A.

THE FORTY-NINTH PARALLEL

"FIFTY-FOUR forty or fight" was the bellicose slogan which won the presidential elections of 1844. But fortunately President Polk's actions in the settlement of the dispute over the sovereignty of the Oregon territory were more moderate than the words which had served him so well in the campaign. For some years peaceful negotiations continued. And in June, 1846, Great Britain and the United States agreed to divide the Pacific Coast area, hitherto occupied jointly, by extending the 49th parallel boundary past the mountains to the Western sea. Had the American claim as far north as 65° 40', the southern limit of Alaska, prevailed Canada would have had no province of British Columbia today.

Under the treaty of 1846 a joint commission, headed by Archibald Campbell for the United States and Colonel J. S. Hawkins for Great Britain, carried on field operations until 1862. To trace and mark the boundary through that mountainous, forested and unpeopled region was a formidable task. Cairns were erected and vistas cut in the woods at many points. And where the new frontier reached the sea a substantial monument was built which still stands as a landmark to commemorate the peaceful settlement of one of the most contentious boundary disputes in North American history.

The work of the Campbell-Hawkins commission had an amazing sequel. When towards the end of the century settlers began to flock into the border country they applied to their respective governments for information as to the exact location of the boundary. It developed that the report of the commission had not been printed, and neither in Washington nor in London could the original copies be found! It appeared as if the expensive and painstaking work of years had been wasted. By the merest chance a Canadian official stumbled upon the British copy of the manuscript, buried in the dust of decades in the Greenwich Observatory. This greatly lightened the task of a new field party, which completed a permanent marking of the border in 1907.

BRAIN SENSITIVE EVEN IF ASLEEP

Scientists Find Electrical Waves Are Initiated in Cortex by Slight Sounds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The brain asleep is electrically active and extremely sensitive.

Discovery of electrical waves initiated in the cortex by slight sounds which do not awaken the sleeper is reported in Science, organ of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, by Alfred L. Loomis, E. Newton Harvey and Garrett Hobart.

These waves, detected by recording devices attached to the skull, have frequencies of from twenty to thirty per second and amplitudes of from ten to fifty microvolts. They are undoubtedly of cortical origin and differ for individuals. They appear in trains, at intervals of thirty seconds to two minutes, and each lasts from five to twelve seconds. The amplitude builds up regularly to a maximum and then falls. There is no correlation with heart beat or rate of respiration.

Such a train can be started by rustling paper, coughing, closing a door gently, or starting low conversation. The sounds are not loud enough otherwise to disturb the sleeper. The same sounds do not start up these electrical waves when the individual is awake. Neither does the man's own snoring initiate them, except that they may be started by a single snore.

The experimenters also found regularly recurring outbursts of waves not associated with any disturbance and for which they can deduce no cause.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock, add 16.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Honghees drydock, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

He was supervising the taking of certain scenes of a comedy. In the script the leading woman was pictured as seated alone in a deep reverie.

"Come with me, you," he said, indicating the assistant director, the leading lady and the cameraman. "I know just the place for taking this here piece of business."

He loaded the three of them into an automobile, got in himself and bade the driver take them along a certain road winding into the foothills above Los Angeles. After an hour or so of steady travel they came to where the narrow but precipitous canyon cut into the contours of the landscape. Here the leader of the expedition gave orders to halt.

"There you are," he stated, with a wave of his arm, "you could look for a week and nowhere you couldn't find no deeper reverie for her to be setting in than what this one is."

Invitation Musical Is Delightful

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Turpin, "Villa Grazia," Rockland Avenue, yesterday gave the second of two invitation morning musicales which were in the nature of a farewell to some of their Victoria friends, as they will leave next month for a prolonged absence in the South.

Assisting Mr. Turpin on this occasion in his most interesting and delightfully artistic programme was Mrs. Shadbolt, of London, England, who has a beautiful contralto voice of most cultured and sympathetic quality.

A VETERAN ARTIST

Himself a veteran concert singer with three score years' experience of recital work both in Europe and America, Mr. Turpin sings with unabated distinction of style as well as vitality, and showed a voice of beautiful resonance and power in his three groups. These included Schubert's "Serenade" and "Ave Maria"; the magnificent baritone aria from the last act of Wagner's "Die Walkyris," which, he said, he first sang forty-five years ago in Cleveland, Ohio; "All Souls' Day" (given as an encore); and two well-contrasted operatic arias, "The Heart Bow'd Down" (from Balfe's "Bohemian Girl"), and "Thou Sublime Sweet Evening Star" (from Wagner's "Tannhauser"). In all these superbly-sung numbers, the diction of which, whether in English or German, was faultless, Mr. Turpin had a most skilled and artistic accompanist in Mrs. C. C. Warn.

Mrs. Shadbolt's singing is distinguished not only by its art and beauty of tone, but by real sincerity and feeling. Her first group, sung in German, included "Still Wie Die Nacht" and "Dureh Die Dammerung" (Strauss); and her second, in French, "Le Ciel Si Bleu" and "Infidelite" (Hahn); to which she added, as an encore, "Homing." Mr. Donald Adams was an able accompanist.

A beautiful arrangement of pink snapdragons, phlox and gladioli added charm to the music-room in which the recital took place, and preceding the programme light refreshments were served on the verandah.

Child Is Rescued By Her Companion

While playing on the rocks at Rescue Bay, which is between Foul Bay and Shoal Bay, around 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, four-year-old Eileen Hendry, of Winnipeg, toppled into the water when she reached for a floating stick of wood.

Marilyn Smith, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Smith, 2120 Penzance Road, saw her companion in the water and waded out and brought the child to safety. Eileen is spending the Summer with George Reside and family, 2153 Quimper Street.

"'Ere you are, ladies and gentlemen," shouted the raucous-voiced tipster. "What did I tell you yesterday?"

Nobody answered the question, and the tipster resumed his shouting.

"Didn't I say 'Broad Bean' wasn't a runner?" he yelled. "And didn't I say 'Water Tap' would still be running, and that 'Dusty Carpet' would take a lot of beating?"

Still there was no answer. But the powerful-voiced man was not dismayed.

"Now," he cried, "I've got a certainty for the next race. Back 'Loose Button'; it's sure to come off."

DELEGATES READY FOR PEACE TALKS

attempt to determine whether an understanding is possible without hostilities between Italy and Ethiopia. Private talks will be held prior to the conference. Laval, who is seen in the role of mediator, will confer first with Eden and then with Aloisi, who arrives on Thursday, before opening of the conference proper.

Eden made his way through a barrage of cameras and was whisked to the British Embassy with other members of the British delegation —Sir Robert Vansittart, permanent Under-Secretary of the Foreign Office; William Strang, specialist on League affairs, and Geoffrey Thompson, head of the Egyptian and Sudan sections of the Foreign Office. The British delegate will have his first conversation with Laval at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

RESUMING ITS TASK

At the same time the League's arbitration commission will meet on Friday in another attempt to resolve the dispute over the Ualual clash last December in which both Italians and Ethiopians were slain. This committee reached an abrupt impasse at Scheveningen last month.

This time they will be aided by a fifth arbitrator. Reports today in authoritative quarters said that he would be Nicolas Socrate Politis, the Greek diplomat whose familiarity with the Ethiopian question is considered to be second to none, although Eden, who has been pursuing the vexed question for many months, and in many capitals, is probably the first authority on its international diplomatic aspects. M. Politis, it was said, would act as the super-arbitrator, in conformity with the decision taken at Geneva at the end of last month.

NO MORE RECEPTIVE

On the heels of the report that Britain still is willing to offer Ethiopia a port in British Somaliland in return for Ethiopian concessions to Italy, came indications from Rome that Premier Mussolini is no more receptive to a settlement of this nature than he was at the time of Eden's earlier offer.

The results of the Paris conversations will be placed before the League of Nations Council on September 4. Meanwhile both Paris and London, it is said, will keep in touch with Washington through diplomatic channels regarding the progress made during the negotiations since the United States has manifested a lively interest in the dispute and has officially expressed the hope that conflict will be averted.

TO START EFFORT

PARIS, Aug. 13 (AP).—A three-cornered effort to settle the Italo-Ethiopian quarrel without war was ready to start tonight with the arrival of Anthony Eden, Great Britain's Minister for League of Nations affairs.

Eden is reported to have brought with him one of the many expected plans to give Premier Mussolini control in effect but not in name over Ethiopia.

The tri-powered conversations will be based on a treaty of 1906 dividing economic spheres of influence in Africa among the three Powers.

TAKING PRECAUTIONS

DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland, Aug. 13 (AP).—France, fearing the League of Nations may fail to settle the Italo-Ethiopian dispute, is taking the utmost precautions to protect its interests in French Somaliland.

Barring a general rising of Somali tribesmen in sympathy with the Ethiopians, French authorities are confident of holding Somaliland against any comers.

UNDER PRESSURE

ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 13 (AP).—Emperor Haile Selassie, as the end of the rainy season in Ethiopia approaches, is under merciless pressure from his many wild chieftains and their followers.

Always popular, he has gained new stature in the eyes of his more considerate subjects because of the extreme dignity, and restraint he has evidenced in the face of the fiery actions and attitudes of these leaders.

He has acknowledged the situation is dark, but has expressed determination not to surrender to popular hysteria, and to do his utmost to work out a peaceful solution of the Italo-Ethiopian crisis.

If war comes, he has promised he will cast aside the robes of statehood and lead his clans to battle in person, playing the traditional role of his regal ancestors.

His dark hour was made darker today as he mourned the death of Woisiro Assalafetch, the wife of his brother-in-law, Dedjazmatch Iima, following an operation.

The Emperor apparently pins little hope upon the tripartite conversations in Paris to which he was not invited.

TROOPSHIPS SAIL

ROME, Aug. 13 (AP).—Three more ships laden with troops, war materials and workmen sailed for Italy's East African colonies tonight, as the Government completed arrangements to send its delegation to the tri-power conference in Paris.

Well-informed circles did not disguise the fact that Italy does not expect any development in these conversations to retard her military programme in East Africa. "Italian policy regarding East Africa has not changed in the slightest," said an official spokesman.

The steamers Merano, Confidenza and Conterosso embarked for African colonies with troops, workmen and supplies. Italy's preparations are not interferring with one of her major peace-time industries, the tourist traffic, an official communique said.

Captain Alfarez Rollon, piloting the hydroplane, was decapitated by the flying blade. The plane, out of control, plunged to the ground and struck with a terrific explosion, bursting into flames.

WOULD SEEK CUT TARIFFS

trade, expressed at the Ottawa conference, had been proven by events since, said Mr. King. Mr. Baldwin has stated: "There are two ways in which increasing preference may be given—either by lower barriers among ourselves or by raising them against others. The choice between these two must be governed largely by political considerations, but subject to that, it seems to us we should follow the first rather than the second course."

WOULD SET EXAMPLE

By lowering tariffs in the Empire an example could have been set to the rest of the world and other countries would have sought to secure a share of the trade of the Empire by lowering their tariffs. The Bennett policy had been to raise tariffs against those outside the Empire and this provoked retaliation, and prompted the development of economic nationalism whereas the Baldwin policy would have the opposite effect.

A Liberal Government would work with Mr. Baldwin in freeing the channels of Empire trade and by so doing aid in freeing the channels of world trade, said Mr. King.

PARLIAMENT TO BE DISSOLVED TODAY

arrives tomorrow, and there were no announcements to be made at the moment. It was believed the seven Senate vacancies had been largely filled, as well as the vacant deputy ministerial posts and appointments to the Canadian Wheat Board.

Some ministerial appointments may be also announced tomorrow. Selection of W. G. Ernst, member for Queens-Lunenburg, for the fisheries portfolio, has been considered certain for some time. It is also known that Mr. Bennett has in mind a well-known Ontario lawyer for his new Minister of Justice succeeding Hon. Hugh Guthrie, who was yesterday appointed chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners. Both these new ministers may be named tomorrow, and one or two more Cabinet appointments may be announced.

PERSISTENT REPORT

There has been a persistent report that G. R. Geary, member for Toronto South, would be selected to succeed Mr. Guthrie as Minister of Justice, and it was learned here tonight that Mr. Geary would be in Ottawa tomorrow. Mr. Geary has had considerable experience in law and was for some time corporation counsel for the City of Toronto.

Although the present Government was formed on August 7, 1930, the seventeenth Parliament was not formally created by statute until August 18, 1930, and would have reached the end of its five years of legal existence on Sunday next.

DATE UNCERTAIN

Selection of September 30 for polling in the general election was considered likely tonight, but not certain. Otherwise, it would probably be September 23 or October 14. It must be Monday, and October 7 is a religious holiday for the Jewish people, which would render it unlikely to be chosen as a general election date.

Mr. Bennett held a long conference with J. Earl Lawson, Dominion organizer for the Conservative Party, today, and with advertising agents called in by the organization. It is understood that detailed arrangements have been completed, giving the party a half hour on a Canadian Radio Commission national network four nights a week, beginning Monday next and ending August 27. Mr. Bennett will undoubtedly utilize a part of this time.

DAUGHTER OF PRINCE MISSING IN SOUTH

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 13 (AP).—Widespread search throughout California tonight had failed to disclose any trace of Rubie Salie, twenty-two-year-old daughter of Prince M. U. M. Salie, wealthy exposition gem display owner, who mysteriously disappeared last night from her apartment here.

The girl, according to police, fled from her home after depositing $250 in the bank at the San Diego Exposition grounds and after packing all of her clothes and personal belongings in three suitcases and a handbag.

Bonfire Is Fatal To Four-Year-Old

NORTH VANCOUVER, B.C., Aug. 13 (CP). — Four-year-old Raymond Carter died today in the hospital from burns suffered yesterday afternoon when dancing flames from a small bonfire in the backyard of his home set fire to his clothes. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Carter.

Jane Dixon Says:

IT IS PROPER FOR GIRLS TO INVITE BOYS TO THEIR HOMES FOR DINNER, BUT NOT IF THE INVITATION IS GIVEN WITH THE IDEA OF PROFITING BY AN ACCEPTANCE

I've begun to think that life is just one big question mark.

Here are a few reasons why:

Jo Nell: You want to know if you should allow the young man who has been attentive to you, then, without reason or explanation, ignored you publicly, to call on you again. Perhaps he had what he considered a reason, and perhaps he has an acceptable explanation, but if I were you they'd both have to be good ones before I would consider continuing the friendship. He behaved very boorishly, wounded you deeply and subjected you to the comment of your friends. He doesn't sound to me like a very desirable young man.

Surprised: You ask me what you should say if the young man who had been calling on you for a year mentions the fact he and your best girl friend exchanged kisses, when the three of you are together.

Say nothing. The kisses were exchanged behind your back.

Hold your tongue and retain your dignity. The young man is the kind who kisses and tells.

The girl is deceitful and tricky.

Neither of them are worthy of your trust.

IT ALL DEPENDS

Two Who Wonder: Is it proper to have boys who are at school away from their own homes come to your homes for dinner, and does it pay? Do boys like to have girls take drinks with them? Do boys like modern or old-fashioned girls? Does it pay to call for boys in your cars and take them driving?

It is quite proper to invite young men to your home for dinner, but not if the invitation is given with the idea of how much you can profit by an acceptance.

Some boys like girls to take drinks with them, and some don't. How much they like the girls who take the drinks depends upon the attitude of the boy toward drinking—especially toward drinks for girls.

Regular boys like modern girls who conduct themselves like ladies. If the boy is a real friend, there is no reason why you should not take him for a drive, but what pay do you expect for it?

Heart-Broken: If you love the boy so much, do not do him the injustice of trying to hold him against his will. Marriage is denied to you until you build up your health. Concentrate on that and try to think of the boy across the street as a friend who has taught you the meaning of love. You are very young. Love will come again, when you have conquered your illness and are able to meet it joyously.

Carolyn: What can you do to make people think more of you? You can think about people and not worry about what people think of you. Don't try to be pleasing to others. Be pleased with others.

Ovaltine COLD

A Food Drink both Delicious and Nutritious
IN hot weather when strength and energy are at a low ebb and all ambition seems to be dead and buried, try Ovaltine COLD.
Ovaltine is a delicious food tonic beverage at any time—hot or cold, but in the heat of summer it "fills the bill" to perfection served—ice cold.
Ovaltine COLD, of course, is not recommended as merely a pleasant summer drink. It combines certain important food elements prepared by the special Ovaltine process so as to supply in easily digested form important nutriments for brain, nerves and body, including the essential vitamins and minerals. Lightly flavoured with cocoa, Ovaltine COLD combines the properties of a delicious drink with that of a wholesome, energizing tonic. It is approved by health authorities everywhere.
How to Make It
Call up your druggist or your grocer now and ask him to send you a tin of Ovaltine right away. It's no trouble to make. Merely add two teaspoonfuls of Ovaltine to a glass of ice-cold milk, and shake it up, or whisk it for a moment or two with an egg beater. Add sugar if you wish.
Serve it ice-cold when the family come in hot and tired and weary with the heat. See how it "picks them up". It's better than a mere "drink". It's food in liquid form. It's life and energy, and new vitality.

STORMY LOVE

A YOUNG NAVY MAN'S ROMANCE

by BELLE BURNS GROMER

CHAPTER XV

It looked as if Lia and Sue weren't going to click here any more than they had in China. Since Brad was his best friend it troubled him to consider the strain of this possible situation. That short visit with Brad today had bothered him, too. He sensed that something was not right there. The kid seemed to find his new job with Cordray okay, although it took him out of town more than he liked. He had a sizable salary, it appeared, but it evidently required plenty of money to live in the States. Playing the market—selling short—had contributed toward the expensive car and his new home in Bremerton, Brad had confided. From all indications, he appeared to be sitting on top of the world. And yet there was something underneath all this apparent well-being that puzzled and distressed Val. Where was Brad's old spontaneous smile? His friend was thinner than Val remembered him. There was a drawn, worried look in his eyes that was no more like his old roommate than noon was like midnight.

As the ferry rounded a point Val's attention was snatched by the first outline of towering cranes and the skeleton upper works of battlecraft etched against the dimming sky. Then as they drew nearer his glimpse of the yard retreated to give him a fuller view of Bremerton through the shadow of the rain. It lay on an inlet circled by evergreen hills, a town of perhaps ten thousand inhabitants with the navy yard hugging its right flank.

Staring through the greying mist, he viewed the few lighted business streets and the workmen's cottages fringing the bluff and felt his spirits descend with the damp of the evening's gloom. His port for the next two years. What lay ahead of him here? His new duty was that of assistant communication officer—a sort of glorified messenger boy, junior to everyone else on the station—and he couldn't give it much. Indeed, from the time when he had received his orders to the Puget Sound yard, a foreboding concerning this place had grown within him.

The ferry came into the dock, and catching up the overnight bag, Val took Lia's arms to guide her forward along the soggy timbers of the slip. Navy yard workmen, waiting to board the returning ferry, surged about them; umbrellas menaced their eyes and dripped down their necks; they were blinded by the glare of headlights.

After a long interval Brad's cafe-au-lait sedan wove in through the jam and the Prestons, damp and chilled from their long wait, were glad to find shelter in the front seat beside Brad. Sue, looking very smart in a brown cape-suit and trig Spring sailor, leaned forward from one of the jump-seats to kiss them both with such unprecedented warmth that Val half-turned in his place to stare at her. The car was fragrant with a blending of L'Heure Bleue and gin, and as Sue presented the other occupants of the tonneau—two young civilian couples from Seattle who were her house guests—he saw that they were all well anointed with the oil of gladness.

Mrs. Field and Mrs. Browne, quite evidently sisters, were fair and violet-eyed, each had a deep dimple in her round right cheek, and the identical shade of moist vermilion lipstick fashioned their mouths into exaggerated cupid's bows. They differed, however, in their choice of a husband, although both men, it appeared, were brokers. Field was a stoutish fellow of thirty or so, notable for a chuckling laugh, a sandy moustache and bluish puffs under his eyes. Browne, on the other hand, was a slight, wiry chap who carried out the shadings of his name in eyes, hair, sun-tan, his neat business suit, fawn linen and cinnamon scarf.

Val's appraisal of the tonneau's occupants was diverted to Brad, who, maintaining a stern silence, stared stoutly before him, manoeuvred the car through the traffic, and then sped along the shadowy streets. What was wrong with the kid? Presently, with a grinding of brakes, he stopped the motor near a vacant lot.

Sue explained her husband's manner with a laugh. "My lord and master doesn't approve because I insisted on fetching along a little cheer to help you Prestons make your bows to the admiral and the rest of the rank. No liquor allowed in the yard, you know. Tea means exactly tea and nothing else."

Val watched her touch a button and saw the back of the front seat slip down and arrange itself into a complete little bar stocked with a row of silver cups, a significant flask, and even a silver shaker sweating with impatience to have its contents absorbed. As he thought how easily this stimplating liquid could banish the chill and depression of the dismal dusk, Val's heart gave a bound of pleasure. But even as Sue poured the pinkish-amber concoction into misting cups, he wrested away his gaze.

"Not any for me, thanks," he said and turned back to stare at the dash.

Sue, a cup extended in her hand, demanded, "Why, Val Preston! Gone noble on us?"

"Don't drink when I'm in uniform," he reminded her shortly.

The plump field shouted with laughter. "The wages of gold braid is thirst," he hooted. "Why didja have to wear your brass buttons and cramp your style, old chap? Why didja?"

Not that it was any of this cackling so-and-so's business Val gloomed darkly; but the man was so insistent he finally explained that he had expected to reach the yard early enough to make his official call at the admiral's office; it was customary on such an occasion to wear service uniform.

Sue lifted her cup in salute. "Sorry, Val," she mocked, "Lia will have to do the honors of the family. After all, being out of the service does have its compensations, doesn't it?" Val saw her put a light hand on her husband's shoulder, but Brad did not respond to the caressing gesture. That wasn't like Brad; he had always been pathetically eager for any indication of this red head's favor. Sue's full lips tightened sullenly at the corners. Then she shrugged and turned away to say patronizingly to Lia, "You can't imagine how wonderful it is to be free to do exactly as we please."

"But free to do what?" Lia drawled. It must be frightfully dull in this little place when you aren't really in the navy set any more."

Why in the name of the great horn spoon did she have to antagonize Sue? Brad's wife turned to her civilian guests, but Val knew she would only bide her time.

Lia blandly sipped hir cocktail. The tantalizing, lemonish odor made his arrogant nostrils twitch. He longed for the warmth and courage it could so easily bestow. The temptation to join in the party was almost more than he could endure.

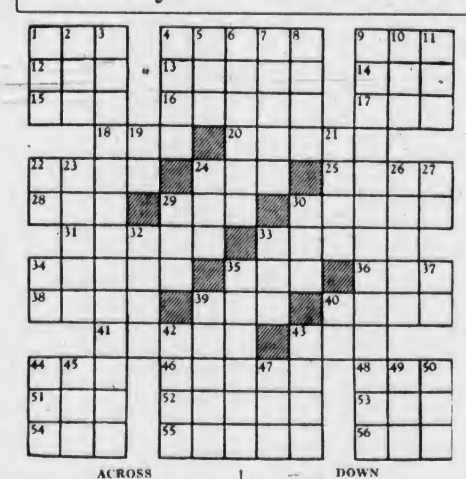

As he sat staring morosely at the floor, he spied the sodden soles of Lia's pumps, and he leaned over abruptly to slip one off. "You'll catch your death in these," he told her.

When she retorted that she could not very well pay calls in her stockinged feet, he hunched forward to the overnight bag to bring out a ridiculous pair of red Chinese slippers. They were of satin with padded soles and had peacock feathers embroidered on the toes. Peacock feathers were eyes of evil and brought bad luck. Sue cried when she saw what he was doing. But he insisted Lia's wet pumps must be replaced until she could stop at their quarters to get proper footwear out of her luggage.

After her second cocktail, however, Lia scoffed at the idea of making a change. She would not, she said, wear any other than these very Chinese slippers. Indeed, she was in gurgles of soft laughter over appearing at the admiral's tea in them. Sue joined in the merriment. "Right, Lia, be an individualist," she applauded.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

HOT WEATHER EATING

During the warm weather we naturally turn to fresh fruits and vegetables. They are not so "heavy" as the potatoes, rich soups, meats and puddings used so plentifully during the cool or cold weather.

It is fortunate that by our newer methods of canning fruits and vegetables during the season when they ripen, it is now possible to have them during the cold weather. Thus, in addition to the meats, fat foods and rich desserts we eat in cool weather, we are now able to have the "canned" fruits and vegetables to overcome the "acid" tendency of the usual food eaten during the cool weather.

Thus with canned fruits and vegetables always available, hot weather eating means simply that the total amount of food eaten should be about 10 to 20 per cent less in the warm than in the cold weather.

There is not the same "eager" appetite for food in the warm weather because the body needs less food to keep it warm and less is needed for the various processes at work in the body.

As the appetite may have to be coaxed, it is only natural that fresh foods and liquids appeal to us more than hot roasts or puddings.

There is only one point that must be watched; that is in our natural desire or liking for jellies, salads, fresh fruits, cooling drinks—all of which are necessary at this time—that we fail to eat enough proteid food—meat, eggs, fish, poultry.

Proteid foods must be eaten at every season of the year, because its work is to build and rebuild the tissues of the body, just as starch foods—bread and sugar—must be eaten daily to give energy.

Of course this doesn't mean that hot roasts, broiled or fried steaks or chops must be eaten; cold sliced meats or poultry, eggs in salads or other dishes, cream or cottage cheeses, are all proteid foods and very suitable for warm weather.

The thought, then, for warm weather eating is a little less food, cutting down on rich, fat foods—butter, rich desserts, more fresh fruits and vegetables, and not forgetting to eat some proteid food—meat, eggs, fish or poultry, every day.

Non-Striker Has Skull Fractured

MONTREAL, Aug. 13 (C.P.).—Assaulted allegedly because he refused to join the women's garment workers' strike in progress here, Benjamin Kimefield, forty-two, received a fractured skull when severely beaten by three men yesterday.

Pickets were placed in front of factories today which refused to comply with workers' demands. Nearly 1,000 employees returned to work, but 300 were still on strike.

RECALL STORY OF REBELLION

Scarlet and Gold Issues Special Edition on Louis Reil's Last Revolt

Fifty years ago the half-breeds and Indians of the Northwest rose in rebellion. The prairies saw the smoke of burning homesteads and heard the wild war whoops of bloodthirsty savages intent on butchery. It saw also the coming of the uniformed youth of Eastern cities to restore order and uphold law and the Queen's authority. To the present generation the story of the Northwest Rebellion seems to be as remote as the uprising of 1837, but to many an aged man the events of that short but desperate struggle is but a memory of yesterday. That there are hundreds of the gallent men of the expeditionary force of 1885 still alive only emphasizes anew the remarkable growth and development of the Canadian West.

There has been recently issued from the press a Rebellion Number of that excellent annual, "Scarlet and Gold," the official publication of the Northwest Mounted Police Veterans' Association. It is worth while. It should command and hold the interest of every person interested in the story of Western Canada.

The publication is well printed, excellently illustrated, and ably edited. The material is from official records and from the pens of numerous veterans of the Rebellion. These old soldiers, who as young men crossed the Canadian wastes in biting cold and made long marches across pathless prairies when the sun was blazing hot, to fight desperately for the preservation of the young Dominion, tell their stories in "Scarlet and Gold." In doing so they have added immeasurably to the records of Canada's history, and awaken anew a feeling of appreciation for the part they played half a century ago.

"Scarlet and Gold" has made a decided contribution to the literature of that period in the life of the Dominion by securing the stories of the Reil uprising in the Northwest and presenting them in such an attractive form. A copy of this fine publication should be acceptable to every resident of the West.—B.A.M.

MALAHAT BOARD ARRANGES PICNIC

Speeches, Music, Bonfire, Moonlight, Hot Dogs and Coffee Make Affair Enjoyable

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, Aug. 13.—A most enjoyable picnic was held on Friday evening on the Strathcona Beach, under the auspices of the Malahat Board of Trade.

A large bonfire on the beach and a cloudless, moonlit sky overhead formed a beautiful setting for this annual outing, which was well attended by residents of the surrounding districts, with visitors from Metchosin, Duncan, Victoria, and other points.

Visiting guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dickie, Hugh Savage, M.P.P., and C. E. Whitney-Griffiths. During the evening Mr. Dickie and Mr. Whitney-Griffiths addressed the gathering.

Suitable selections by the local orchestra enhanced the programme, which was topped with a supper of hot dogs and coffee prepared by the members and many willing helpers at the bonfire. A popular contest, with many useful prizes, was held at the close of the evening.

Sea Turtle Tows Big Seine Boat

BOSTON, Aug. 13 (A.P.).—An 800-pound sea turtle, which fishermen said dragged the eighty-one-foot Gloucester seiner Santa Maria 100 feet, was placed on display at the Boston Fish Pier yesterday. Captain Peter Mercurio said his crew lassoed the "leatherback" turtle, which is eight feet from head to tail, after it became entangled in their mackerel nets yesterday. A few well-directed rifle shots killed the turtle.

"Your teeth are in bad shape," said the dentist. "You should have a bridge put in at once."

"How much will a bridge cost?"

"About $75."

"Say, doc, can't I get along with a small culvert?"

Boston Takes Over Third Position From White Sox in American League

Red Sox Continue To Move Up by Win Over Chicago Nine

Beantown Squad Now Behind New York in Pennant Race—Yankees Gain on Tigers by Beating Indians—Detroit Loses to Senators—Athletics Whip St. Louis Browns Easily

AMERICAN LEAGUE

CLEVELAND, Aug. 13 (AP).—Sloppy fielding doomed the Cleveland Indians today as Charley Ruffing held them to four hits, the Yankees winning the first of a four-game series, 8-2. The Yank victory cut the lead of the Detroit Tigers, beaten today by Washington, to five games.

Walter Stewart, veteran left hander, was the victim of the Indians' sloppy fielding. Four errors helped contribute six unearned runs to the Yankees' total. Stewart retired in the midst of a four-run rally with two out in the eighth. Winegarner finishing.

Takes Third Place

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP). — The Boston Red Sox climbed into third place in the American League by tumbling the Chicago White Sox into fourth with a fourteen-hit attack against John Whitehead and Jack Salveson that produced a 9-5 victory.

Bill Werber's twelfth home run of the season, a pair of triples and a double by Dusty Cooke and two doubles and a single by Mel Almada featured the assault.

Batteries—Welch and R. Ferrell; Whitehead, Salveson and Sewell.

Senators Beat Tigers

DETROIT, Aug. 13 (AP). — Earl Whitehill, Washington's veteran southpaw, pitched the Senators to a 4-3 victory over Detroit in ten innings today as the league leaders dropped a game of their margin to the New York Yankees.

Pete Fox's home run in the third, his twelfth of the season, followed singles by "Flea" Clifton and Jo Jo White to account for all the Tiger markers.

Washington	4	14	2
Detroit	3	7	2

A's Trounce Browns

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 13 (AP).—The Philadelphia Athletics fell on four St. Louis hurlers today to pound out a 14-1 victory in the first of a four-game series opening the last home stand of the season for the Browns.

The league trailers, handicapped by weak hurling, were held to seven hits by Johnny Marcum, while Connie Mack's men blasted out seventeen. Every man in the Athletics' line-up except Marcum entered the scoring column.

Batteries—Marcum and Richards; Coffman, Thomas, Walkup, Poser and Hemsley.

COAST LEAGUE

OAKLAND, Aug. 13 (AP). — The customers were sent home early from today's Pacific Coast League game when the Missions scored a 2-1 victory over Oakland in the fast time of one hour and fifteen minutes.

While not a league record, the time was fully a half-hour faster than the average game, and was featured by a pitching duel between a couple of right-handers, Bill Ludolph, of the Oaks, and Otho Nitcholas, of the Reds. They allowed a total of eleven hits, Ludolph being nicked for half of his six bingles in the sixth frame when the Reds pushed over both their runs.

With one out, Almada singled for Gabby Street's boys, and Wright doubled to score Almada. Outen bounced a single off Devivierio's shins to score Wright, and the damage was done.

Oakland's tally came in the last of the seventh when Molesworth opened with a double, and Hawkins, after Mailho hit an infield out, poked out a single to score Molesworth.

LINCOLN FIELD RACE TRACK, CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP).—Jockey H. Bagur, of New Orleans, one of the leading race riders in the West, today was ruled off the turf for life by the stewards of the Lincoln Field Jockey Club for allegedly attempting to use a battery to stimulate the speed of a horse.

Christopher J. Fitzgerald, steward representing the Illinois racing commission, said he caught the twenty-year-old jockey with the battery concealed in his sleeve as the horses were leaving the paddock for the second race of this afternoon's programme. One of the favorites, Haggerson, finished eleventh in a field of twelve.

Goldstream Winning by Nose From Biff

Gen Gauthier, of Courtenay, racing in the midget class hydroplanes, won top honors for the day against a field of about six entries.

In the last heat of the final run in the "C" class hydroplanes, Jack Clark and Jack Beban, both of Nanaimo, cracked up, but escaped uninjured.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

New England Is California—During one of his piratical expeditions, undertaken to harass the Spanish shipping trade, Sir Francis Drake, commanding the Golden Hynde, being unable to return to England by the route he came, decided to return by way of the Pacific.

On June 17, 1579, Sir Francis landed in what is now called Drake's Bay, just north of San Francisco, California. In the name of Queen Elizabeth he took possession of California, and named the country Nova Albion (New England), for its white banks and cliffs reminding him of Old England. He spent thirty-six days in the new country, whose hospitality and kindliness he enjoyed, but for many centuries thereafter the English misuses and geographical works continued to refer to California as Nova Albion, as Drake had christened it.

in the grand championship. It has been a long time since such close results have been recorded on an opening day. The co-medalists, Dr. Otis B. Wight, Portland, and Jack Ballinger, Seattle, survived, the former winning from C. F. G. Pattullo, Spokane, on the last green, and the latter disposing of J. W. Ruggles, Victoria, at the same hole. Champion Joshua Green, who won last year at Colwood from Curtis Harold, was also carried to the eighteenth by J. J. Dempsey, Tacoma.

Andrew Sheret and A. T. Goward, two of the local hopes, had their hands full with W. S. Babson, Portland, and P. C. Murphy, also from the Rose City, respectively. Both matches ended on the nineteenth greens and were nip-and-tuck all the way. John Hart was drawn against Jack Rithet, Victoria southpaw, and won the decision, 3 and 2. W. H. Abbott, the Bellingham survivor, came through against L. S. V. York, Victoria, 3 and 1.

A former champion, J. A. Byerly, Portland, passed from the title picture at the hands of J. D. Duncan, Seattle, 2 and 1, after another exciting match from the first tee to the seventeenth, where the tussle ended.

EXTRA HOLE MATCHES

Two twentieth hole victories were registered. F. T. Fischer, Seattle, trimmed a fellow townsman in C. H. Bacon, at the second extra hole, while J. J. Hamley, Pendleton veteran, eliminated W. Dirker, Portland, at the same green. The former match was in the fourth flight and the latter in the sixth. In class "C," W. F. Kettenbach, one of the two entries up here from Lewiston, Idaho, was two down and four to go against Winlock Miller, Seattle, but rallied to win out at the nineteenth. Kettenbach was a grand championship finalist two years ago at Oak Bay.

It was announced during the day that Joshua Green will captain the American team in the annual Nicol Cup match Friday against Canada. J. W. Ruggles, Victoria, will look after the Dominion representatives.

TO PRESENT PRIZES

C. S. Battle, Vancouver, president of the association, will present the many handsome prizes at the clubhouse Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. In the past the silverware has been presented at the annual dinner, but plans have been changed this year.

NANAIMO CITY CAPTURES OPENING FIXTURE, 3-1

Up-Island Squad Wins First Game Of Series, 3 to 1

Hands Lethbridge Supinas First Defeat in Dominion Football Play-Downs—Ukie Grey, Bud Sandland and Gordie Bell Score Goals—Montreal Blanks Wanderers

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Aug. 13 (P).—The undefeated record of Lethbridge Supinas in Dominion Football Association play-downs was broken here tonight when Nanaimo, British Columbia representatives, scored a 3-1 upset victory over the Alberta standard-bearers in the first game of the Western Canada finals. A second game will be played here Thursday night and a third, if necessary, Saturday.

Exhibiting marvelous ball-control and excellent positional play, the Nanaimo eleven left little room for doubt as to their superiority in the minds of 1,200 fans who witnessed the fixture.

George "Uke" Grey, clever inside left, rapped in the first goal for the Coast team and "Bud" Sandland added another. George Ure, Supinas' centre forward, sandwiched a goal in between these two. Gordon Bell, right winger, topped off the Nanaimo scoring. It was a case of headier and more experienced players against a more or less untried young eleven.

WORRY OPPONENTS

Worrying tactics of the Nanaimo team had "Soops" on the run all night and the Lethbridge team played erratically. Their usual smooth short passing game was missing as the clever British Columbians literally ran the Lethbridge team off its feet.

Supinas started the game on a forcing note, Knight testing Pete Inkster in the Nanaimo goal. A continued drive failed to produce as the British Columbia halfbacks booted away strongly. The tide turned as Nanaimo hit their stride, driving "Soops" back and giving Bobby Dunlop, Lethbridge custodian, some hot drives to handle. Nanaimo's aggressive tactics were rewarded when Grey shot from a welter of players in front of the Lethbridge net giving Dunlop no chance to save. A moment later George "Shorty" Sumner, scrappy little inside forward of the "Soops" was forced from the game, with an injured knee, J. Truman replacing him.

Supinas played their best soccer as they set out for the equalizer. A brilliant movement started by Ure at centre forward forced Inkster to concede a corner. Joe Lakie, outside left, took the kick and Ure scored from a scramble in front of the net. Inkster was caught out of position.

Soops faded badly after their flash of form and Nanaimo again took over play forcing a corner in short order. Bell took the kick and Dunlop fisted to Sandland who drove a smoking shot into the corner of the rigging, to again put Nanaimo ahead.

Soops started a belated rally after the change over but Jim Radley missed a great opportunity when he shot wide from fifteen yards. Sandland followed his example a moment later, lifting the ball high over the bar.

BELL SCORES

Supinas tried desperately to organize their forwards but their movements lacked finish around the goal mouth. Nanaimo, content to play a defensive game and wait for the breaks, broke away on several dashing raids, forcing Dunlop to save smartly. One of these produced the best goal of the game when Waugh and Bell combined to beat Dunlop, Bell shooting past the Lethbridge goalie on Waugh's pass in the goal mouth.

Supinas tried hard to whittle the lead of the Nanaimo team as full time approached, but their efforts fell short as a sturdy half-back line broke up their plays time and again.

The lineups:

Lethbridge—Goal, R. Dunlop; fullbacks, A. Donaldson and G. Anderson; halfbacks, J. Clarke, G. Wilson and Ted Radley; forwards, J. Lakie, G. Sumner, G. Ure, Jim Radley and W. Knight.

Nanaimo—Goal, Pete Inkster; fullbacks, Andy Gavin and Ernie Edmunds; halfbacks, Orville Boyd, Jimmy Knight and Alex Thomson; forwards, Gordon Bell, Alex Stewart, Jimmy Waugh, George Grey and Bud Sandland.

Referee—Jimmy Gilhooley, Calgary.

MONTREALERS WIN

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Aug. 13 (P).—Montreal Aldred tonight defeated West Fort Wanderers of Fort William, 2-0 in the first game of their Dominion Football Association semi-final playoffs. The second game will be played Thursday and a third, if necessary, on Friday.

Near the end of the first half, Montreal's inside right, Joe Berdell, sent Aldred in the lead with a low curving shot from thirty yards out. The Fort William goalie, Currie, made a hard effort to save by throwing himself at full length but he just tipped the well-directed shot.

Davey McLean, Aldred's outside left, put the game away for the Montrealers near the close when he followed up a shot of Charlie Fitzpatrick, outside right. As goalie Currie saved and halfback Dupuis rushed to his assistance, McLean stepped between the two players to boot the ball over the line.

Montrealers showed themselves a steadier and more experienced team. They played their positions better than the Wanderers who attempted to cover too much ground.

The Aldred forwards, the Fitzpatricks, Berdell and McLean, were particularly dangerous. Nelson, in the Montreal goal, turned in a standout performance.

Over-anxiousness thwarted many of the Wanderers' attacks. Thompson, MacKay, Nesbitt and Bobby Murray gave fine displays for the West Fort William team.

HAMBLETONIAN IS SET TODAY

GOSHEN, N.Y., Aug. 13 (P).—The characters for light harness horse racing's most spectacular drama were cast today when nine three-year-old trotters, the leaders in their class, were picked to play principal roles in the tenth staging of the Hambletonian at Good Time Park tomorrow.

More than 40,000 fans, gathered from city and farm, are expected to pack the rambling racing theatre set among the Ramapo Mountains on the outskirts of this village of 3,500.

As for the show, which figures to break all records not only in attendance but time, Greyhound, a sleek, grey colt owned by E. J. Baker, of St. Charles, Ills., is the 2-to-1 favorite to steal the spotlight and win the purse of $18,760.

YOUNG STAR IN VICTORY

Miss Nolte Scores Great Win Over Mrs. Kirkham in State Golf

BELLINGHAM GOLF CLUB, BELLINGHAM, Aug. 13 (P).—Concentrating on an attack against Seattle players, feminine golfers from other sections of the state held their own today in first round of the Washington State women's golf tournament.

The opposing squads were each cut in half as nine Seattle and seven "outsiders" survived the eighteen-hole opening round of firing.

The girls from other cities who are determined to take the title away from Seattle were given much encouragement when Mrs. Guy Riegel, of Spokane; Mrs. Don Scott and Thelma Osburn, of Bremerton, and Mrs. F. Currie, Winifred Nolte, Mrs. E. Wheeler and Mrs. E. Ekholm, of Bellingham, marched to victory.

The Seattle survivors are Elizabeth Finn, Mrs. C. F. Lindley, Mrs. G. B. Butterworth, Mrs. A. D. Hansen, Mrs. J. D. Gilmour, Barbara Winn, Mrs. J. R. West, Mrs. J. K. Holloway and Mrs. S. P. Nielsen.

SCORES FINE WIN

Miss Nolte, a young Bellingham girl, turned in the most amazing victory of the day when she defeated Mrs. W. A. Kirkman, of Seattle, one up, by winning the last five holes. At the thirteenth she was four down, but with the aid of two stymies and some mistakes by Mrs. Kirkman, "Walloping Winnie" squeezed out her sensational win.

By her 2 and 1 triumph over Mrs. W. M. Shelton, of Seattle, Mrs. Riegel, the only former state titlist in the meet, became the chief hope of the anti-Seattle clan. The Spokane woman was only seven over par in spite of a near-gale wind.

H.M.S. Danae to Meet Two Local Soccer Elevens

SAANICH Thistles, first division soccer eleven, will play an exhibition match with H.M.S. Danae's footballers, Saturday afternoon at the Heywood Avenue grounds. The kick-off is scheduled for 3 o'clock.

Tomorrow the visiting British sailors will make their first Victoria appearance when they stack up against the Royal Canadian Navy eleven at the Royal Athletic Park in the Naval Veterans' Trophy fixture. The match is scheduled to commence at 6 o'clock. Dave McMillan, well-known local arbiter, has been named as official referee.

WALKER PUTS LOSTER AWAY

Former Welter and Middleweight Champion Scores Knockout

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13 (P).—Mickey Walker, the Rumson, N.J., bulldog, made good last night in his second comeback start by knocking out Lou Loster, of Pottsbown, Pa., in the second round of their scheduled ten-round bout at the Arena.

A typical old-time Walker left hook smashed the Pennsylvanian down for the count twenty-eight seconds after the second round started. Walker opened the session by tickling Loster's knees with a pair of stiff right hands.

Then he whipped the left over and the Pottsbown battler fell face forward, not moving as Referee Tommy O'Keefe tolled the count.

Walker, outweighed 173 to 183 pounds, had promised State Athletic Commission Secretary Jules Aronson that he would hang up his gloves if he lost tonight's fight.

The former two-weight champion looked far better tonight than he did a couple of weeks ago in New York when he dropped a decision to Jimmy Anderson in his first comeback attempt.

He moved slowly and cautiously through the first round, as the 11,000 fans who stormed the outdoor show shouted for action. Satisfied that he could step in and shoot punches at the Pennsylvanian he wasted no time at the bell for the second round, and crushed Loster before the crowd had settled down for the session.

ATHLETES TO TOUR RUSSIA

Seven Canadians Will Compete in Soviet Union's Big Sports Meet

TORONTO, Aug. 13 (P).—Seven Canadian athletes, including one woman, will leave tonight for Montreal to board ship for Moscow and make an athletic tour of the Soviet Union. Eva Dawes, Canadian high jump champion, is the lone feminine member and the only athlete of national renown on the team.

Expenses raised through public subscription by the Workers' Sports Association of Canada will take the athletes to Russia and back again. Cost of living and equipment while in the Soviet has, according to James Turner, secretary of the Workers' Association, been guaranteed by the Soviet Union.

SWIMMING EVENTS

Besides Eva Dawes, others in the party will be Emanuel Orlick, of London, graduate of the University of Western Ontario, who will take part in a series of swimming events in addition to participating in gymnastics. William Philipovich, of Alberta, is said to be an all-round track and field star, but who has never distinguished himself in Canadian competition. Sid Brown, of Montreal, will compete in the tennis events, while Walter Kazer, Winnipeg, a member of the Soviet Workers' Association in Canada, will take part in gymnastic events.

Ray Hanta, Port Arthur, member of the Soviet Association in Canada will compete in the track and field events, while Alex Dewar, of Saskatchewan and Toronto, will enter all swimming events.

Babe Ruth Will Compete in Big Golf Tournament

CLEVELAND, Aug. 13 (P).—Babe Ruth, baseball's greatest slugger, will play with Bill Burke, of Cleveland, 1931 National open champion, and Tommy Armour, of Chicago, who has held both the British and United States open titles, Friday in the $3,500 True Temper open golf championships here.

It will be Ruth's first appearance in a serious money tournament and his first golf competition in Cleveland. Walter Hagen, veteran of many tournaments, will have Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., and Elmer E. Heasley, Jr., of Cleveland, as partners in the tournament.

DIAMOND "S" SQUAD TAKES BALL TUSSLE

Defeats Hollywood Club, 10-9, in Twelve Innings —Cards Win

Spencers Diamond "S" softballers, the "wonder" club with only one pitcher, continued their successful drive towards the city championship yesterday evening at Central Park when they nosed out the Hollywood Club, 10-9, in a twelve-inning fixture.

The victory, one of the sweetest recorded by the Diamond "S" boys this season, and they have recorded many, advances them to the semi-finals of the city play-downs against the Poodle Dog Cafe, "B" Section titleholders. The fixture, a sudden-death affair, will be played at Central Park this evening at 6.10 o'clock.

Opening their city championship play-offs, Jack Taylor's Kresges Cardinals, fair sex softball squad, came through with an 11-10 decision over Bob Whyte's Live Wires, in the first of the two-out-of-three-game series played yesterday evening at Central Park. The second tussle is billed tomorrow at the same grounds. Victory for the Cardinals will give them the local honors and advance them to the final play-offs against the North Saanich Service Club nine.

LAST INNING RALLY

Driving over three runs in their final offensive, one more than their opponents, Spencers eked out a 10-9 verdict in a bitter struggle. At the end of the eighth frame the score stood 7-7. Three scoreless innings followed, and then the Hollywood boys pushed across a pair of markers in the twelfth frame, only to have Spencers come back in their half of the same inning and go one better.

There was plenty of heavy hitting in the fixture, with the clubs collecting a total of thirty base-knocks, including three homers. The Diamond "S" boys garnered seventeen of the thirty bingles, but it was left to the Hollywood Club to take the circuit smash honors by driving out two of the three four-ply swats. Humberstone and Bardge contributed the four-base knocks for the losers, and Anderson did the Ruthian act for the winners.

Score by innings:

Hollywood Club	300 110 020 002— 9
Spencers	011 202 010 003—10

Batteries — Fletcher and Barber; Carr and Knapp.

CARDINALS WIN

Taking a substantial lead early in the fixture and withstanding a determined Live Wires' belated offensive, Kresges Cardinals squeezed through to an 11-10 victory in the opening fixture of the women's section play-downs. The feature of the game was Jane Trotter's homer in the seventh inning with one player on the bags.

Cardinals, bringing their guns into action early in the tussle, drove their way to an 8-4 lead in the first four frames. Live Wires scored three markers, one in the fifth and two more in the sixth, to pull up to within one run of the Cardinals. In the next two innings the winners did the scoring, netting two runs in the seventh and one in the eighth. Still battling for the spoils of victory, Live Wires made a gallant effort to pull the fixture out of the fire in the ninth frame by pushing across three markers, one short of the Cardinals' total. Score by innings:

Live Wires	110 212 003—10
Cardinals	223 100 21x—11

Batteries — Elsie Matthews and Peggy Holt; Isa Milliken and Vivian Hannan.

CLEANERS WIN

Togo Cleaners, smart junior softball nine, kept in the running for the league title, by defeating Schmelz Machinists, 16-11. In the other scheduled Junior League fixtures, Strawberry Vale won by default from Oak Bay, and Harris' Cyclettes took their game from the Canucks by the same route.

Gloucestershire Gains Victory Over Touring Eleven At Cheltenham

CHELTENHAM, England, Aug. 13 (P).—Gloucestershire today dinted the untarnished record of the touring South African cricketers, winning a close battle by 87 runs.

Led by Walter Hammond, the western county scored 279 and 298 to its opponents' 289 and 201. Hammond compiled 123 in Gloucestershire's second inning after Reg. Sinfield had led in the first innings with 102. Kenneth Viljoen was the only touring batsman to reach triple figures. He scored 122.

Victory by the Gloucestershire men, who are second from the bottom in the County cricket table, put an end to a string of victories by the Springboks in their present tour against first and second-class County teams totaling seventeen. Eight matches were drawn.

In test matches against England, South Africa has won the only completed game. No decision was recorded in three and the fifth and final game will start at The Oval on Saturday.

LEWIS MAY MOVE

HAMILTON (P).—Ray Lewis, Hamilton Olympic Club's Canadian 440 yards sprint champion, is thinking seriously of moving to Sudbury. A Pullman porter, Lewis finds it would be easier for him to do his training at the northern town than here. But he hasn't definitely pulled stakes yet.

Stock Prices at New York Mart Continue Strong

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP).—The stock market took profit-realizing in its stride today and edged ahead again into new high territory for 1935.

Dealings were brisk, only a shade behind the whirling market of Monday, which set a record since July, 1934. American Telephone carried the ball for the bull team from the opening, and a number of the communications and utilities gave it strong backing.

Pivotal industrials were again in many cases sluggish, although a number of specialties joined in the forward push.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks rose .2 of a point to 48.9, replacing the previous 1935 high of 48.7 made Monday. The best gain was in the fifteen utilities which also climbed to a new 1935 top on the chart, up .5 of a point to 38.4. Turnover in the stock exchange was 2,367,540 shares.

American Telephone finished ahead 2 3-4 points at 140 1-2, another new high.

The main body of corporate bonds made little headway today.

Bonds of communication companies were especially active, but net changes were not impressive except that of Postal Telegraph 5's, which ended 2 3-4 points higher at 34 1-2.

The foreign division was entertained to a round of excitement by a rise of 1 to 2 points in two issues of German Government Bonds, and gains of 3 1-2 points each in Milan 6 1-2's and Rome 6 1-2's.

TORONTO MINES LITTLE CHANGED

Medium-Priced Golds Show Small Gains — Silver Shares Are Softer

TORONTO, Aug. 13 (CP). — Trade was spotty on the mining board of the Toronto Stock Exchange today, with action again mainly concentrated in the medium-price gold group. McWatters pushed up 17 cents to 1.60 on a turnover of 22,000 shares.

Silvers were slightly on the weak side and base metal issues fairly steady except for a drop of 3-4 to 37 1-4 for Noranda. Volume expanded to 326,000 shares.

Wright-Hargreaves lost 5 cents, McIntyre 1-2 and Bralorne 25 cents. Pickle Crow added 5 cents, Prospectors Airways 9, Mckenzie 5, Macassa and God's Lake 2 and Gunnar 5. San Antonio dropped 10 cents and Little Long Lac and Buffalo-Ankerite 5 cents each.

Lower prices for bar silver brought some selling in the white metal stocks and Eldorado slipped back 10 cents to 1.53, and Castle lost 2 to 94. Bear Exploration closed higher by a couple of cents. Premier lost 3 cents.

WHEAT PRICES RECEDE AGAIN

Crop Report Regarded as Bearish — Export Sales Small at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Aug. 13 (CP).—Wheat prices continued on their downward path on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today as bearishness prevailed over lack of foreign demand for wheat and yesterday's Canadian Government crop report.

Bringing the net two-day recessions to 2 1-2 cents, values were 5-8 of a cent lower at the close today, August at 81 5-8 cents. Some recovery from early precipitous declines was shown in the late trading, half the day's extreme losses being recovered. Export sales were again negligible.

Demand for Durums was the only interest shown in cash grains, spreads on these grades advancing about a cent, while coarse grains futures were slow.

News of Mines

(Mara, Bate & Co., Ltd.)

Bankfield Gold Mines—Now stated to have extended the new ore shoot on the first level for over 300 feet, and development work is proceeding in the easterly direction. Slashing into the ore zone has disclosed widths up to 14 feet. This is on the new ore that was recently found as paralleling the first level drift. Found less than two months ago through experimental diamond drilling from the drift, the new ore which is off the south vein, is doing much to brighten the future outlook for Bankfield.

Central Patricia—July production reported to be 1,894 ounces, with approximate value of $66,290. This mill onyl operated twenty-eight days because of a change over in power. In June production amounted to 2,260 ounces, with approximate value of $79,380. Costs have been reduced to under $7 per ton, net profits being $35,000 a month with the average recovery of 21.47 an ounce.

Lakeshore Mines—With total gross production figures for Lakeshore Mines now available for the entire fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, it is estimated roughly that net earnings per share, after depreciation and taxes, will be approximately $4.17, as compared with actual earnings of $5.07 per share for the previous corresponding fiscal period ended June 30, 1934.

Gunnar Gold Mines—The drift on the 750-foot level at Gunnar Gold Mines property is now in for a distance of 135 feet, according to advices from the Beresford Lake section of Manitoba. Values are said to be running from .46 ounce or $16.10 per ton to .9 ounce or $31.50 per ton over a width of 3.8 feet. It is understood that officials of the company estimate ore reserves at the property at 65,000 tons.

Minto Mill—Handled 2,030 tons during July and mill heads showed improvement. Production figures for the month are not available as yet, owing to pressure of work in preparing annual reports. While some increase in the net earnings is expected, it is not anticipated that the net results will fully reflect the increased tonnage and higher heads owing to the fact that readjustments in the mill were in progress and in consequence tailings will be high. Expenses have been cut by discontinuation of mining operations in view of the fact that there is broken ore on hand sufficient for five months.

Pickle Crow is down to 575 feet in depth, with a station having been cut at 500 feet. Work will be carried to 625 and 750 feet, where working levels will also be established. Late this year, operations will be under way on six levels, and are expected to pave the way to the proposed larger mill.

God's Lake—Will go into production early in the final quarter of the current year. Fine progress has been made with hydro-electric power development and with mill construction. Within a few days the underground work will be in the Akers deposit at 375 and 500 feet in depth. The ore grades over $15 at the first two levels, and this points towards a large margin of operating profit.

Hollinger Consolidated—Produced 434,000 ounces of gold last year, but has since lowered the grade and will record a decline this year.

Island Mountain—The Newmont-controlled Island Mountain, located on the Jack of Clubs Lake in the Cariboo, for the month of July reported a substantial increase in output over the previous month. During the month the mill handled 2,523 tons of ore, recovering 1,750 ounces of gold, worth $61,250 at current prices. Officials state the increased production was made possible by milling of high-grade ore recovered from the dump.

Big Missouri—Large tonnage of .17-ounce ore is reported to have been proved up by recent operations. At present values this is equivalent to about $5.52 per ton. Costs on a basis of 1,500 to 2,000 tons daily have been estimated at $2 per ton, leaving a profit per ton of approximately $3.50.

Falconbridge—Net earnings after all charges, $334,521, equal to 10c per share, compared with $366,091, or slightly over 11c per share in the like period of 1934.

What Today Means

"LEO"

If August 14 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until noon; from 1 to 3 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 7 to 9 p.m., from 3 to 5 p.m., and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

It will be unwise to allow any form of superstititon to interefere with your logical powers of reasoning this day. Unless business is sought energetically, a sluggish condition may be prevalent. Whispering in any gathering is likely to create a feeling of animosity. So be governed by this admonition. Any new venture started on this date will more than likely succeed as general conditions are very favorable. This day is not auspicious for any hazardous physical work. Be careful not to take unnecessary risks, especially in gymnasiums. In friendly gatherings remember that absent-mindedness can lead to embarrassing situations. Lady Luck probably will make you one of her proteges today, so you can be in a receptive frame of mind. Married and engaged couples, and those aspiring to win someone's hand, will display wisdom if they refrain from any undignified actions or attempts to be funny at another person's expense.

If a woman and August 14 is your birthday, you have plenty of determination and courage. You may be inclined to think it a sign of weakness to give expression to emotional feelings in front of others. Be careful this idea does not create the wrong impression that you are lacking in sympathy or affection. You are charitable in thoughts and actions. You should succeed as a social welfare worker, trained nurse, educator, musician, artist, writer or office employee. Having every qualification a wife should possess, there is no reason why you should not be very happily married.

The child born on August 14 generally, by the time it reaches high school age, develops an almost insatiable desire for knowledge, which may justify the parents in feeling optimistic regarding its future intellectual attainments.

If a man and August 14 is your natal day, you will probably always have a youthful spirit. Law, medicine, lecturing, acting, preaching, teaching or selling may offer you excellent opportunity to demonstrate your ability.

A small boy, aged five, had been spanked for a misdemeanor and stood in the corner to think over his transgressions. Half an hour later his father said: "You know why I spanked you, don't you, John?"

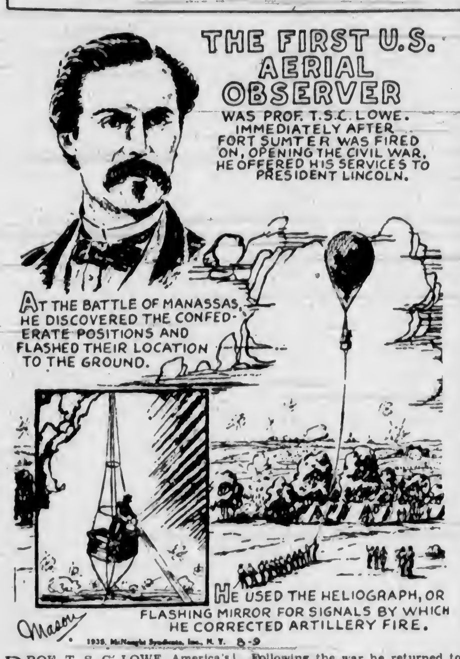

"I don't really," replied the child, "unless it's the depression."

FLIGHT. . .

by W. D. TIPTON and J. H. MASON

PROF. T. S. C. LOWE, America's first war-time balloon observer, gave Count Zeppelin his inspiration to tackle the problem of aerial navigation. They met during the Civil War when for the first time in the world's history artillery fire was directed with the aid of balloon observation. Here also Zeppelin made his first ascension.

Professor Lowe made his first balloon flight in 1853 and continued his studies and experiments in ballooning up to the Civil War, during which he had charge of aerial observations for the Federal army.

Following the war he returned to New York with plans in his head for a transatlantic balloon flight. He built a huge balloon, christened it the City of New York, which was 300 feet high and 130 feet in diameter. It was destroyed by fire during inflation. It contained 725,000 cubic feet of gas and was designed to carry twelve persons. It had a large whale boat swung beneath its car for the Atlantic crossing.

Professor Lowe was also a great astronomer, the Lowe Observatory in California being named for him.

QUEEN'S WEATHER

"I have counted," remarked Mark Twain, during a speech at a dinner of the New England Society, "one hundred and thirty-six different kinds of weather inside of twenty-four hours.

"There is a sumptuous variety about the New England weather," he elaborated, that compels the stranger admiration — and regret. The weather is always getting up new designs and trying them on people to see how they will go.

"Probable nor'east to sou'west winds, varying to the southard and westard and eastard and points between; high and low barometer, sweeping round from place to place; probable areas of rain, snow, hail and drought, succeeded or preceded by earthquakes with thunder and lightning."

All this and more was, of course, said by Mark Twain in fun, and on that account we find no mention of queen's or splendid weather of which New England boasts plenty these, for many of us, dog days.

The phrase itself—queen's weather—we have after the especially fine conditions which almost invariably favored the appearances in public of Queen Victoria.

Mrs. Smith was telling her neighbor that she had just received a telegram, stating that her soldier son had arrived safely in India that morning.

The neighbor was amazed by the news.

"What!" she exclaimed. "That seems impossible, Mrs. Smith. The telegram must have traveled at a terrific speed."

"It must have," said the proud mother. "When I received the envelope the gum on it was still moist!"

OARSMEN WILL SEEK LAURELS

Vancouver Rowing Club's Regatta to Attract Fine Entry List

VANCOUVER, Aug. 13 (CP).—Vancouver Rowing Club officials tonight announced plans were nearing completion for their annual regatta next month, expected to bring together some of the crack oarsmen from British Columbia and the University of Washington.

Heading the Vancouver entries will be Monty Butler and Johnny Dickinson, who recently returned from the Canadian Henley, where they captured the junior and senior tackweight singles and doubles titles. It will be the champions' first showing since annexing their Dominion crowns.

A challenge race is being mooted between the Vancouver pair and Ran Hill and Max Oates, of Kelowna, crack Interior scullers, who swept the boards at Kelowna regatta a week ago.

In addition eight-oared crews have been invited from the University of Washington and Victoria.

The regatta is scheduled for the middle of September, the exact date to be set within the next few weeks.

Remember When

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

Two cricket teams left the city yesterday evening. The Victoria club's members went to Seattle to meet the American eleven in an all-day game, while the Albions journeyed to Vancouver to play the latter at Brockton Point. This leaves Victorians without the usual trio of week-end games this Saturday. However, there will be one, the Albion second eleven and the Empress being scheduled to compete on the Beacon Hill pitch.

The Prides, a local baseball nine which has made a creditable showing this season, will take a crack at the Chemainus outfit tomorrow. They will leave by the morning train going direct from the depot to the ball yard. They have arranged to have their strongest team on the field and are hopeful of breaking through the Chemainus winning streak.

Nothing remains to be done preparatory to today's Victoria-Vancouver provincial league lacrosse match but the blowing of the referee's whistle. When the shrill shriek of that discordant instrument is heard at the Royal Athletic grounds this afternoon it is hoped that the grandstand will be filled to its limit. Certainly those who miss it will do themselves out of a very fine exhibition of the Canadian game. The Victoria team is cocksure of victory and Vancouver's representatives believe they will have little difficulty in repeating their previous victory over the Victoria squad.

Bahram Suffering From Slight Cold

NEWMARKET, England, Aug. 13 (CP).—The Aga Khan's colt Bahram, winner of the Derby and hot favorite for next month's classic St. Leger, was found coughing after a light exercise on the heath today and was sent back to his stable. Some uncertainty surrounded the colt's condition but he was not believed to be seriously out of shape.

BIRTHDAY CAKE WAS TOO SMALL

Friends of Pioneer River Pilot Tender Congratulations on Anniversary

SEATTLE, Aug. 13 (AP).—C. J. Campbell, one of the last of the Upper Columbia River steamboat pilots, observed the second day of his ninety-first year today still receiving congratulations from his friends but unable to pass out any more slices of birthday cake. The cake was all eaten on Sunday, when he was host to fellow boarders at his home.

For years, until the railroad put the steamboats virtually out of business, he piloted wheat carriers between Wenatchee and Brewster, having arrived when the steamer City of Ellensburg was the only one in the trade.

The City of Ellensburg and the Thomas L. Nixon, owned by Thomas L. Nixon and L. E. Post, of Tacoma, were launched in about 1888 and were the forerunners of a long list of sternwheelers which Charlie Campbell knew or served on until the cessation of river traffic in 1916, when fire destroyed the last steamers tied up in Wenatchee.

Campbell came West with Thomas H. Griggs, with whom he was associated on the Red River of the North to Lake Winnipeg. Under R. Griggs he worked on the Okanagan, Selkirk, Janet Griggs, T. J. Pringle, North Star, Nixon and other paddle-wheel steamers known to early-day Central Washington residents and travelers.

Assistant: "For value, there is nothing on the market to compare with this at the price."

Customer: "And how much is it?"

Assistant: "One moment, madam, I'll ask the manager."

Oil Field in Backyard

—Central Press Photograph.

Right in his own backyard, Tony Schmidt, of Los Angeles, is drawing out black gold literally by the bucketful these days. He was digging for water recently when he struck gasoline mixed with lubricating oil. He now has seven wells and uses buckets and ropes to bring out the fuel. Photo shows Schmidt, in centre, with John Rodriguez, at left, and Olayhondro Torres at one of his wells. His "oil field" is not far from the Signal Hill field.

LOVE STORY NOW AT THE CAPITOL

Janet Gaynor Plays Leading Role in "The Farmer Takes a Wife"—Henry Fonda in Cast

Filmgoers who have been looking for the superlative romance, those who seek drama, and those who prefer adventure will find all these elements combined in the simple, human, down-to-earth story of Fox Films' "The Farmer Takes a Wife," which opens today at the Capitol Theatre.

The picture stars Janet Gaynor in one of the most absorbing and tender love stories it has been her privilege to play; it exhibits for the first time the superior talents of the screen's new romantic sensation, Henry Fonda.

"The Farmer Takes a Wife" deals with the turbulent glamour and vitality of the Erie Canal scene in the early 1850's, and draws its dramatic conflict from the love of a boy fresh from the farmlands for a girl who was attached to the water life.

Fonda is the boy who takes to the canals to earn enough to buy his own farm. The life of the canal throws him into contact with Janet Gaynor, cook for canal-boater Charles Bickford, and although he recognizes their intrinsic differences, Fonda cannot help falling in love with her. She returns his love.

During all this period, Fonda is trying to woo Miss Gaynor away from the canal, trying to show how the despised steam trains have doomed the canals. But it is not until after the harrowing climax in which Fonda gives Bickford, the bully of the waterways, a taste of his own medicine that she will listen to his pleadings.

DOMINION THEATRE Remember "Dracula," "The Old Dark House," "Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde," "Frankenstein," and "The Mummy"? Well—roll all the thrills, chills and excitement of these pictures into one, and you'll have "Werewolf of London," which is now at the Dominion Theatre. "Werewolf of London" is a picture based on the fabled creatures called "werewolves"; creatures who are men most of the time but who become transformed into wolves each month during the full of the moon.

LOCAL HISTORIAN IS CORROBORATED

Nanaimo Visitor Adds Evidence to Theory of Chinese Discovery of Western Coast

NANTIMO, Aug. 13.—The contention of B. A. McKelvie, Victoria newspaperman and historian, that the Chinese discovered the western coast of the North American Continent was borne out yesterday by John M. Nicol, consulting engineer, of San Francisco, who was a visitor here. Mr. Nicol's father was closely connected with the early history of Nanaimo, and Nicol Street, of this city, is named for him.

Mr. Nicol described how his brother, Charles E. Nicol, Nanaimo native son, was British Consul in Managua, capital of the Central American Republic, thirty-three years ago. At that time the Imperial Government sent a commissioner to Managua to settle certain Nicaraguan claims, and J. M. Nicol was given the responsibility of entertaining him.

A TERRIBLE PLACE

"At that time," said the engineer, "Managua was a terrible place in which to live. There was no sanitary conveniences, the place was extremely dirty and hot. Our friend from London was exceptionally bored.

"Curiously enough, in trying to interest him, I happened to discuss archaeology. He immediately showed interest.

"There were certain ruins in the vicinity of the city, and to cut a long story short, we prevailed upon the President to lend us 500 soldiers to excavate amongst them.

"We found many valuable relics, and our visitor was delighted. He was particularly enthusiastic over a vase with Chinese characters on it, which contained valuable carved jade beads, which my friend declared came from Burma.

"He wrote a monograph on the subject for the British Museum, and, I believe, presented the vase and beads to that institution."

According to researches made by Mr. McKelvie, Hoei Shin traveled these coasts about 495 A.D., and upon his return related his adventures in Fusang to the Chinese court historian.

Nanaimo Awards Tender for Pipe

NANAIMO, Aug. 13.—The city council last night awarded tender for the purchase of 2,500 feet of water pipe to be used in the construction of a new pipe line from the Nanaimo Waterworks to the city, to the Vancouver branch of the Pressure Pipe Co., Ltd., of Canada. The purchase price is to be $55,020. City Engineer Graham was authorized to enter into a contract with the firm on this basis, and the work of laying the new pipe will be started as soon as possible.

As the lady strolled through the park, two urchins confronted her.

"I say, lady," said the taller of the two, "my brother does fine imitashings. Give 'im a penny and he'll imitate a hen."

"Dear, dear!" smiled the lady. "And what will he do—will he cackle?"

"No," replied the lad with a look of contempt, "e won't do no cheap imitashings o' that sort. 'E'll eat a worm!"

Peter Falls in With Jimmy Skunk

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Peter Rabbit had just opened his mouth to ask Striped Chipmunk some more questions about Weaver the Orchard Oriole when from up along the old stone wall there sounded a loud "Sniff! sniff!" Peter knew that Bowser the Hound was coming.

"Good-bye, Striped Chupmunk. This is no place for me," whispered Peter and started for his home in the dear Old Brier Patch. He was in such a hurry to get there that on his way across the Green Meadows he almost ran into Jimmy Skunk before he saw him.

"What's your hurry, Peter?" demanded Jimmy.

"Bowser the Hound almost found me up in the Old Orchard," panted Peter. "It's a wonder he hasn't found my tracks. I guess he will any minute. I'm glad to see you, Jimmy, but I guess I'd better be moving along."

"Don't be in such a hurry, Peter. Don't be in such a hurry," replied Jimmy, who himself never hurries. "Stop and talk a bit. Bowser won't bother you as long as you are with me."

Peter hesitated. We wanted a gossip, but he felt nervous about Bowser the Hound. However, as he heard nothing of Bowser's great voice he decided to stop a few minutes. "What are you doing down here on the Green Meadows?" he demanded.

Jimmy Skunk grinned. "I'm looking for something to eat, if you must know," said he. "I'm sure to find some white grubs down here on the Green Meadows, and I've just a notion that I may accidentally run across some fresh eggs."

"Jimmy Skunk, you ought to be ashamed of yourself to even think of stealing eggs!" declared Peter indignantly. "I think egg thieves are simply horrid."

Jimmy didn't look at all offended. In fact, he chuckled good-naturedly. "Don't think I'm a regular egg thief," said he. "I'm nothing of the kind. I never go hunting for eggs the way some people do. It is only once in a while I happen to find an egg by accident that I eat it. A nice fresh egg tastes good once in a while, especially at this season of the year. I don't go out of my way to hunt for eggs, but I don't object to finding some now and then."

"Well, you're not likely to find any down here on the Green Meadows," said Peter.

"Perhaps not, Peter, perhaps not," retorted Jimmy Skunk, "but I've known of stranger things than finding eggs on the Green Meadows."

"Jimmy Skunk, you ought to be ashamed of yourself to even think of stealing those eggs"
